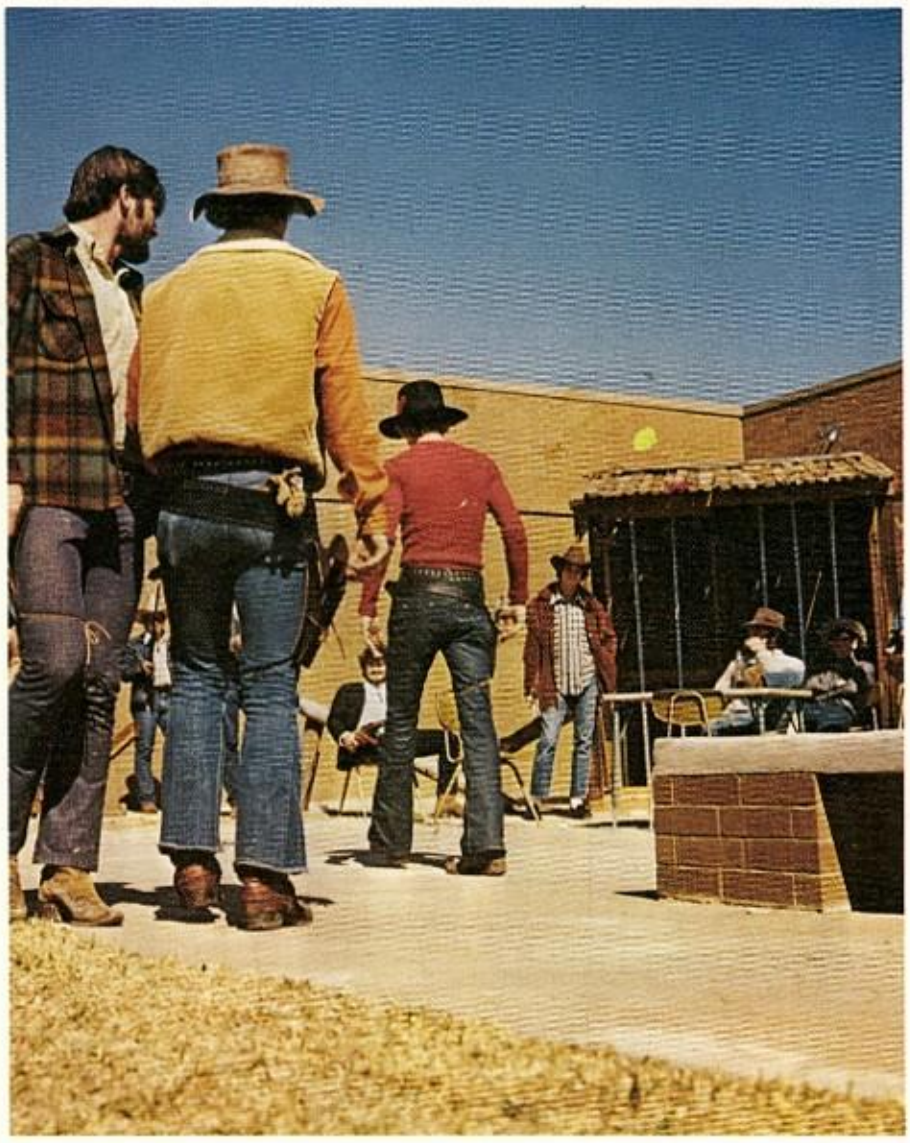
'Wild West' Revived During Western Day

Texan Day came alive on Feb. 26 with saloon girls and goat ropers. During both lunch periods of the day, gunfights were staged in front of the jail, and a live show was performed in the "Spitoon Saloon."

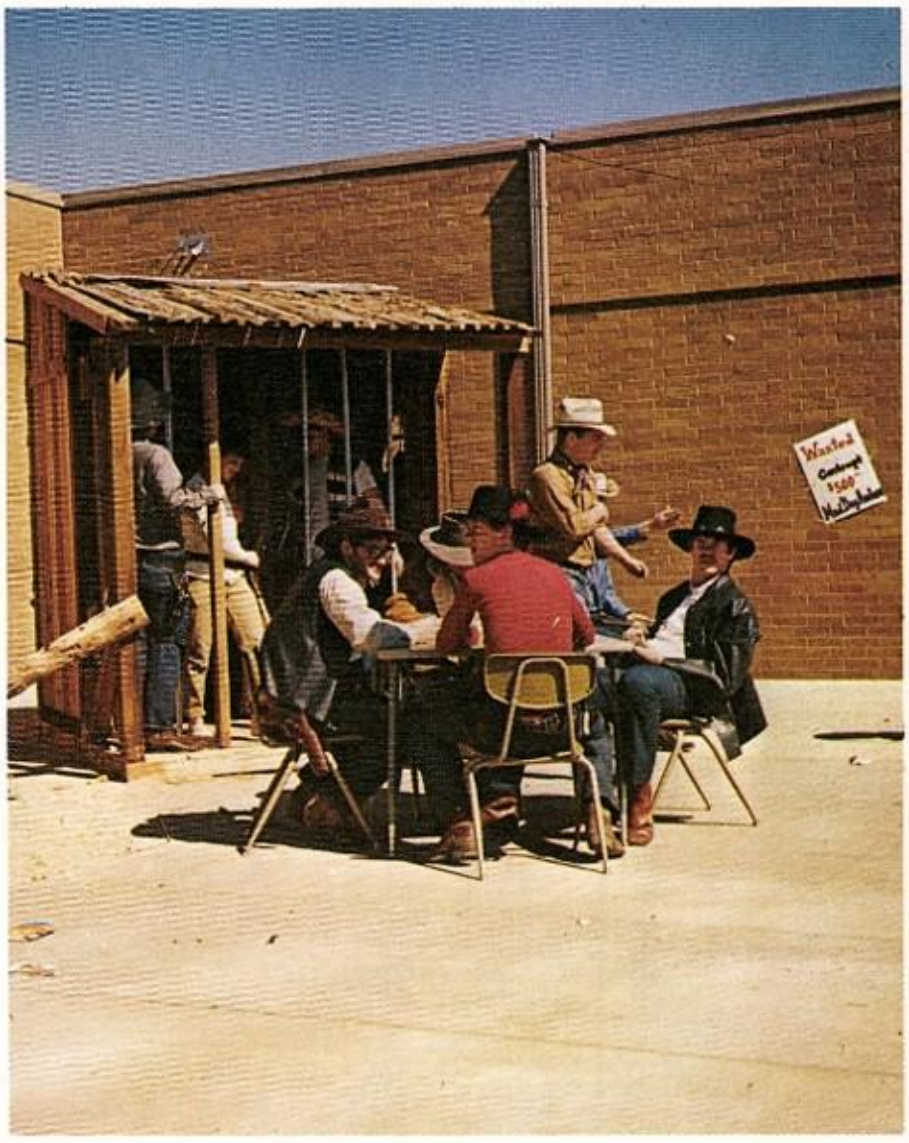
Many clubs devoted time and effort to creating buildings which helped give "Texan City" a realistic air. Student Congress gave ROTC a $30 prize for their fort.

Added attractions involved the Texan City Tribune, which was sold for a penny, and a justice of the peace who awarded marriage licenses for only 25 cents.

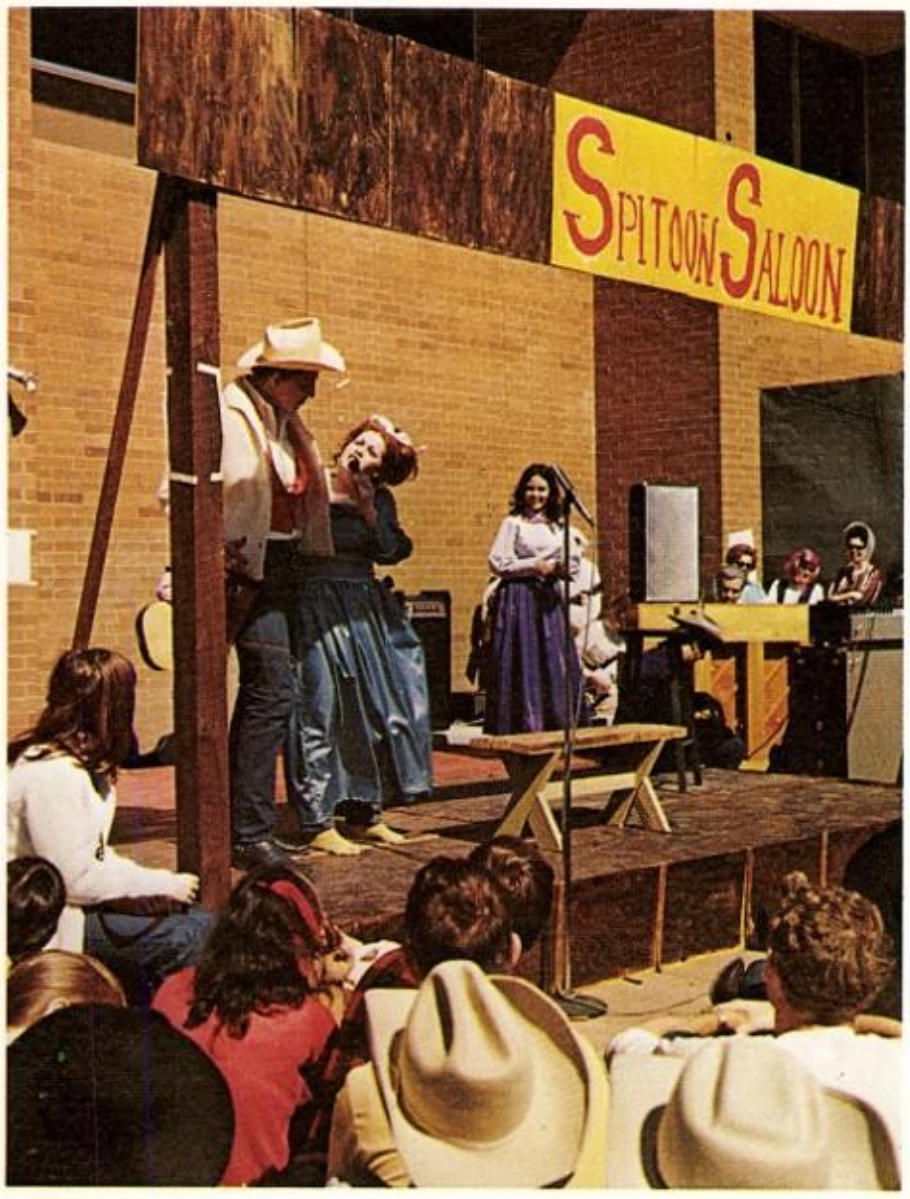
The "Spitoon Saloon" was the scene for the Texan Day entertainment, and this group of sophomores, juniors, and seniors displayed their singing and dancing.



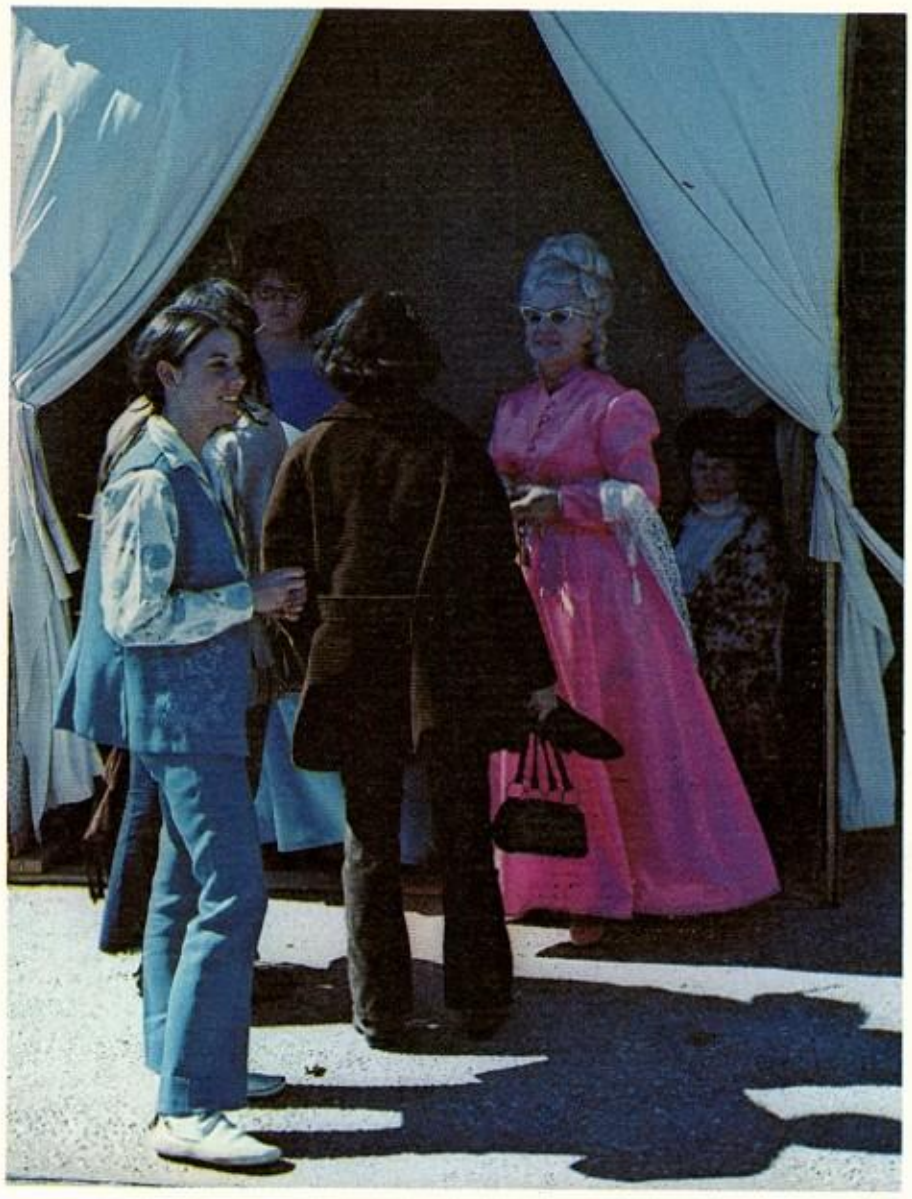
Gunslingers Richard Clay, David Steele, and Larry Barger attempt a jail break, disregarding Houston City sheriffs.



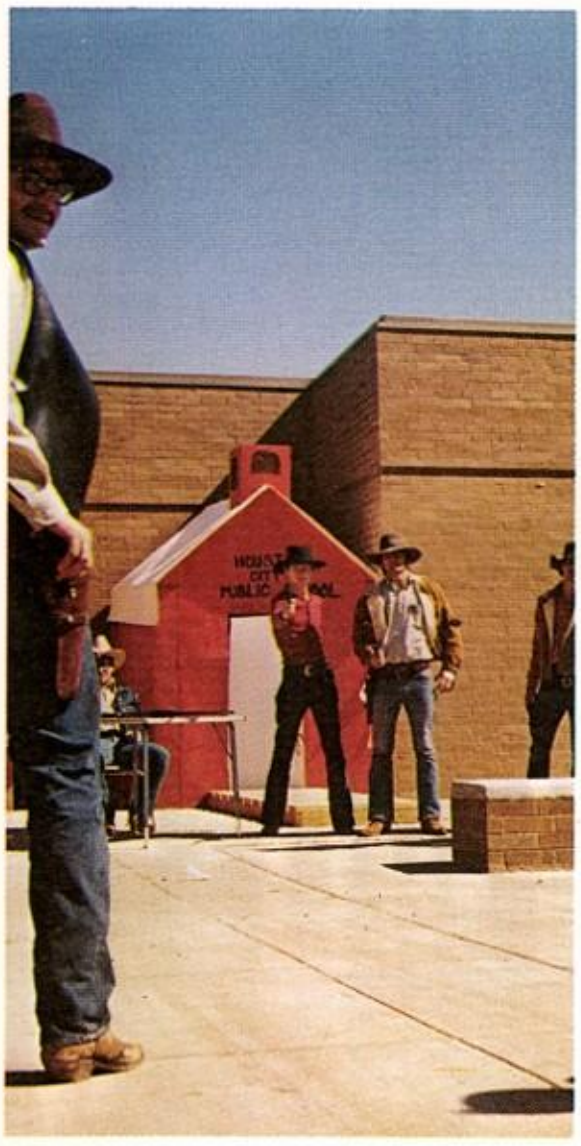
Card-playing proved to be a favorite pastime as this group of jailers relax while keeping a close guard on the jail.



During the live show, sophomore Pam Boyett sings "Hey Big Spender" to an unprepared cowboy from the noon audience.



Mrs. Lasater, cosmetology instructor, discusses the newly designed beauty salon, constructed by some of her students.



Senior Tommy Nettles demonstrates his fast draw, using a deputy as target.

As westerners wandered around the courtyard during the noon hour, many stopped to listen to the only "modern convenience" around — the Sam Houston stage band.

Karlos Thomas Captures Homecoming Crown

Before the Homecoming game started the choir walked out on the field and sang "Almighty God" as the prayer. Participating was Karlos Thomas, club nominee.

On the night of Oct. 30, a most memorable week came to an exciting climax as Karlos Thomas was crowned 1970 Homecoming Queen.

Karlos was the choir nominee, and she chose Speck Benard for her escort. After receiving her roses, she was presented to all when she toured the football field in a new 1970 convertible.

During her three years at Sam, Karlos has served as a cheerleader and in Student Congress. She is also active in FBLA and Interact.

Whispering congratulations to the new queen is a proud escort, Speck Bernard.

Smiling and crying, the new reigning queen slowly travels around the field.

Overwhelmed with happiness, the newly crowned queen faces the student body.

27 Feel Rush of Hectic Homecoming Week

Throughout the 1970 Homecoming Week, Oct. 26-30, spirit mounted. The door decoration contest held by Student Congress and Thespians' all-school paint-in helped to provide posters and streamers which covered walls, ceilings, and doors.

Carrying out a SHHS tradition, each club nominated one girl for Homecoming queen. Those 27 girls, the largest group to ever compete, shared a special excitement.

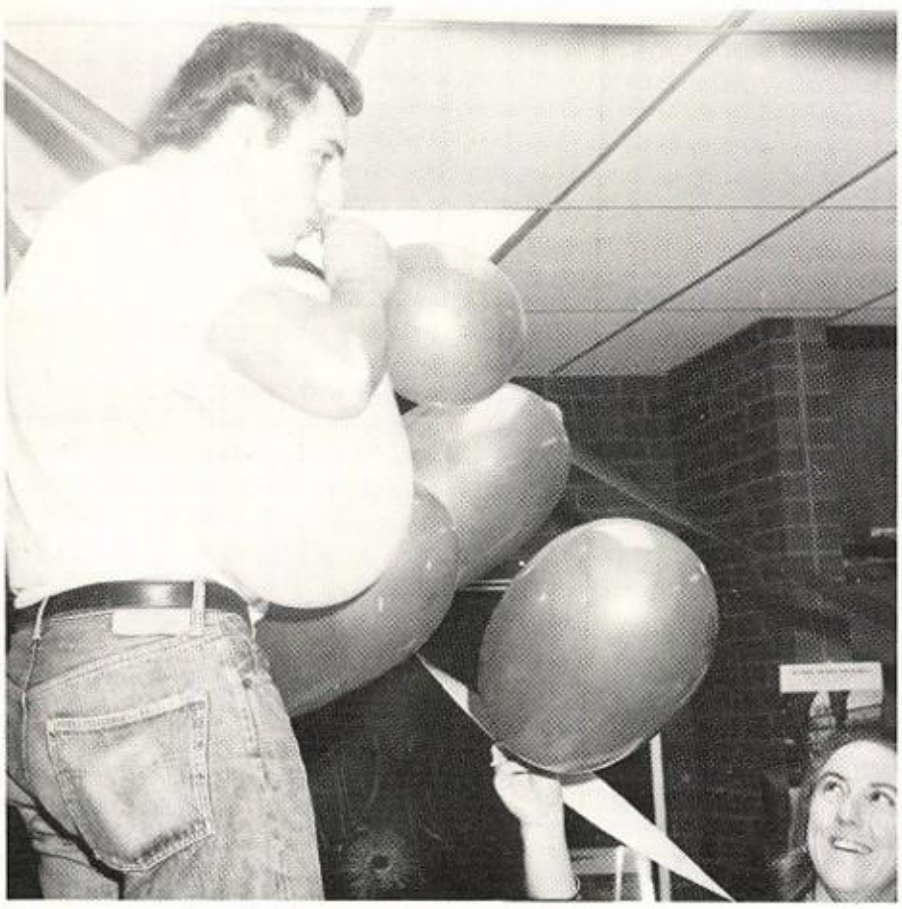
Friday, Homecoming day, brought an hour long pep rally. Many exes joined with the student body, and the spirit rose to a peak.

When game time approached, the stadium filled to near capacity. Students, faculty, and parents all gathered to support Big Sam as the Texans beat MacArthur 21-14.

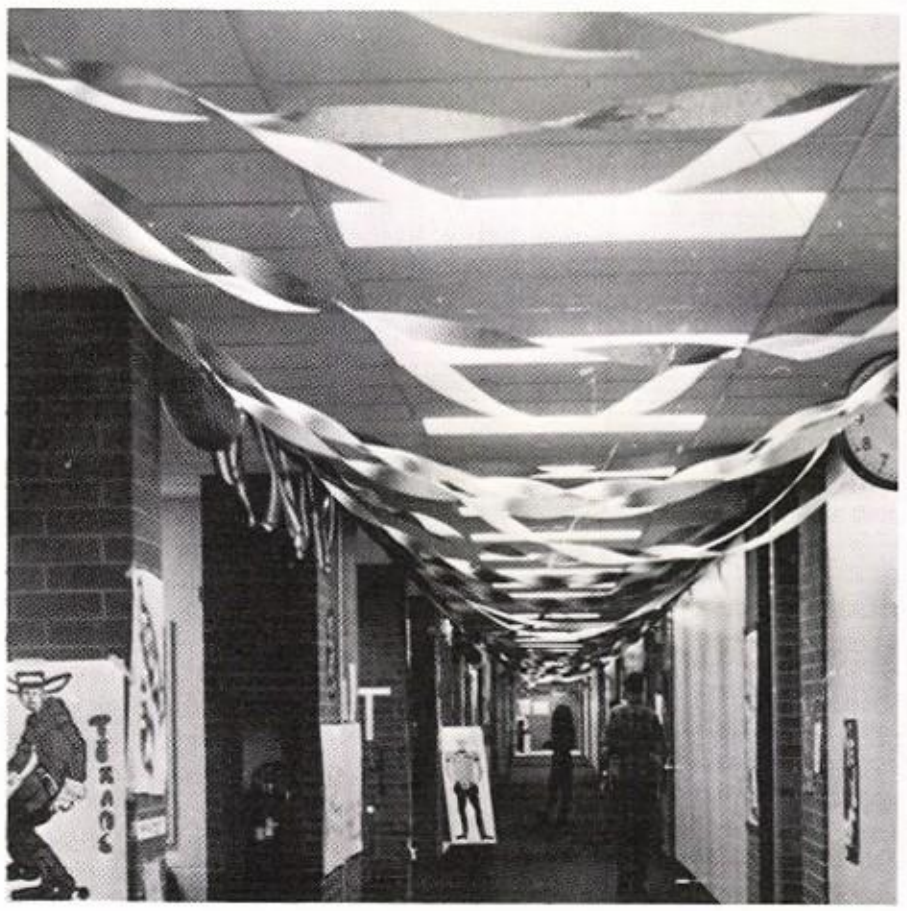
During halftime the 27 queen nominees passed through the archway and the week slowly came to an end.

Thinking, chattering, and comparing are some reactions of nominees as they open presents awarded to them during the Homecoming Assembly held in the gymnasium.

Decorated doors, classrooms, and halls prove "Happiness is Homecoming 1970."



Blowing up big balloons of red and blue, Jerry Kelly helps Miss Anderson in the hard to reach spots of her classroom.



So many streamers flowed from open areas during Homecoming Week that it was not possible to forget the game Friday.

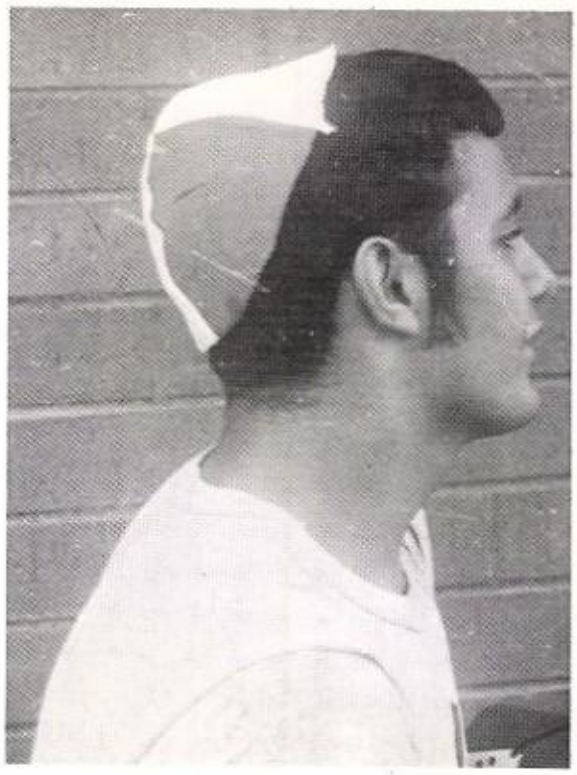
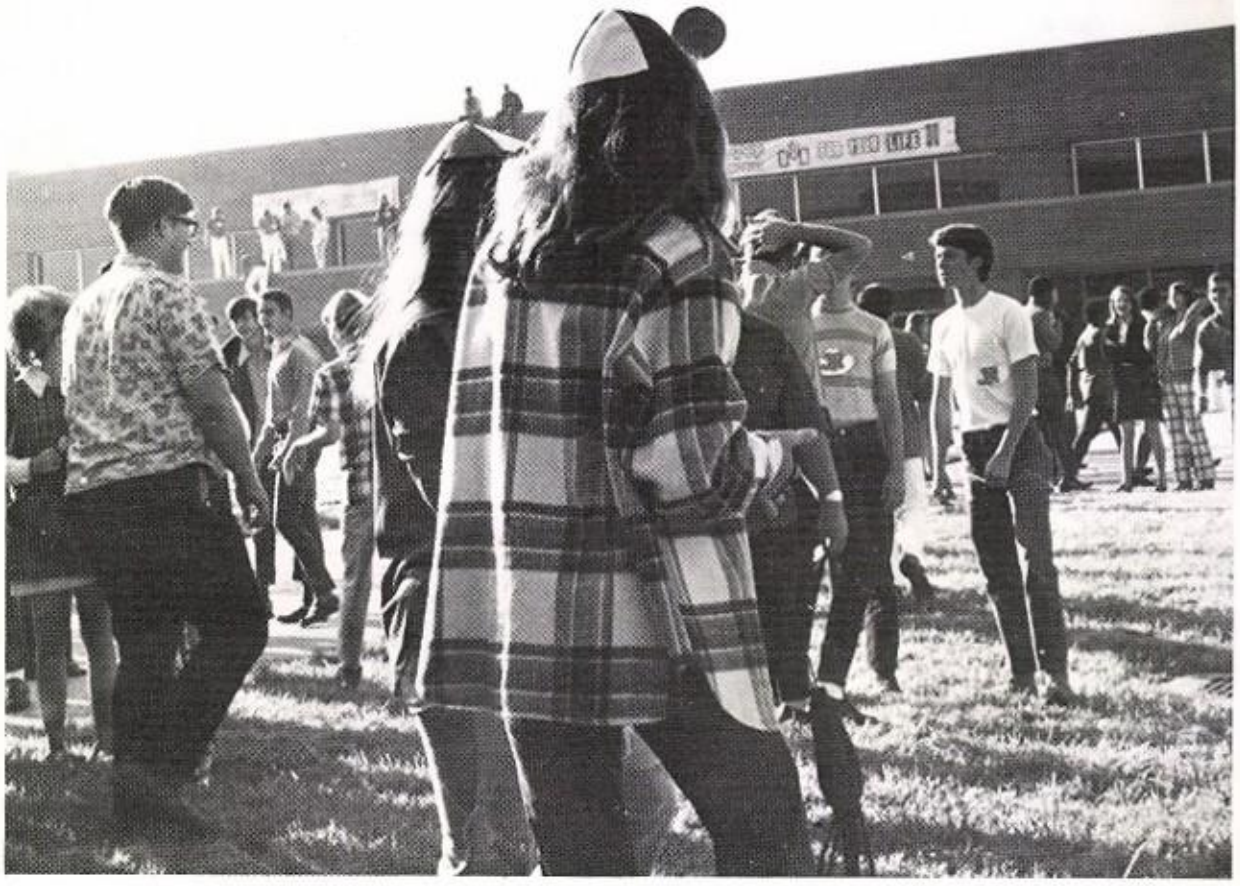
"I'm going, just give me time," thinks this frightened sophomore on Howdy Day, as an experienced junior urges him to meet some more of his fellow classmates.



A shy mouse comes out for Howdy Day, unaware of the dangers awaiting him

"Look, you dumb sophomore. You can't make me sing. I'm a sophomore, too."



Sam Houston's first closed courtyard prevents scattering lower classmen from escaping the annual sing-song led by the Senior Class on Oct. 13, Howdy Day.

Experienced juniors keep on the lookout for seniors and faculty members, as they conduct a sophomore trio singing the fight song during the Howdy Day activities.

Howdy Day Held in Courtyard

Howdy Day, the mass initiation of sophomores, began with a sophomore assembly in the library at 9 a.m. on Oct. 13.

Sophomores received red, white, and blue beanies and realized this was "it". At 9:15, juniors and seniors received their name tags.

Sophomores were released from the library to the courtyard where the singing session lasted until second period began.

Howdy Day activities ended with a skit, held in the courtyard, but sophomores were required to wear their beanies until Friday night.

Steve Callahan joins the Singing Texans in a musical variety skit on Howdy Day. This newly formed group of junior and senior boys perform at school assemblies and are all able to provide program entertainment at local service club meetings.

"Boy, am I tired!" exclaims the mouse after finally being declared a Texan.

Participating in the traditional Howdy Week, top classmen complete the initiation period of sophomores with a convincing skit, showing the procedures innocent lower classmen must go through to walk the halls of Sam Houston and become a Texan.

Rallies Present Story of Football Season

Bell Raiders from outer space invade a Sam Houston pep rally in attempt to steal the secret formula of success acquired by the Texans during the football season.

In spite of an incompleted gymnasium, the cheerleaders and bellguards were able to organize Sam Houston's first pep rallies. At the beginning of football season, rallies were held in the courtyard.

The spirit started as students joined the band and sang "Fight, Texans, Fight." Guest speakers, planned skits, and many cheers occupied the remainder of the time. About 2000 students joined in with laughter, yells, and applause to back Big Sam to victory. For the last few minutes, everyone stood united for the Alma Mater.

Reinforcing the Varsity for the district championship game with Arlington High, seniors Patty Farmer and Patty Hicks, and junior Karen Wiser plan football plays.

Bellguard David Overbey portrays "Little Arlie" in Texans vs. Colts Rally.

Four Chosen by Faculty to Protect Bell

Heard by all during every football game was the booming voice of the Texan bell. Guarding the bell were Patty Farmer, Janet Morris, David Overby, and Steve Nicholson selected by a committee.

Besides just accompanying "Big Sam" on Friday nights, the bellguards worked with the cheerleaders to promote spirit. They assisted with the planning and presentation of pep rallies.

Smiling, Patty Farmer has the task of keeping a large group happy in rain.

Senior Steve Nicholson helps set up the speakers at an outdoor pep rally.

"I'm a long tall Texan," says 4'11" Sam Houston bellguard Janet Morris.

Bellguard David Overbey helps cheerleaders to promote spirit at rallies.

Ringing in the spirit at one of the Sam Houston football games, the bellguards, David Overbey, Patty Farmer, Steve Nicholson, and Janet Morris, await the kickoff.

Sam Cheerleaders Keep Spirit 'On the Move'

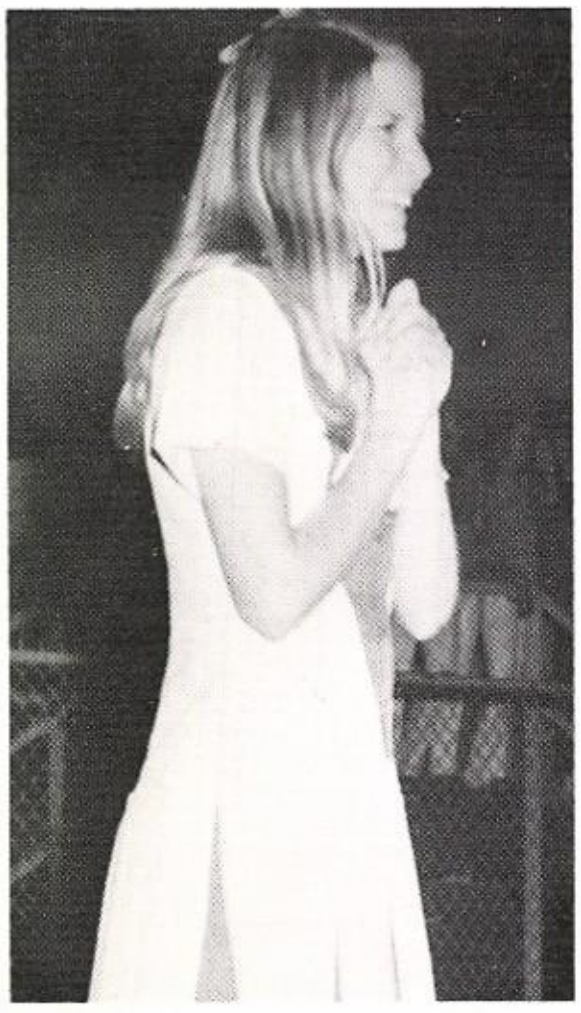
Always on hand to back all Texan teams are Sam Houston's cheerleading squads. The cheerleaders teach and lead students in yells at games and rallies.

The varsity squad, composed of four juniors and four seniors, support all varsity teams. The eight girls spend much time and thought preparing pep rallies and skits.

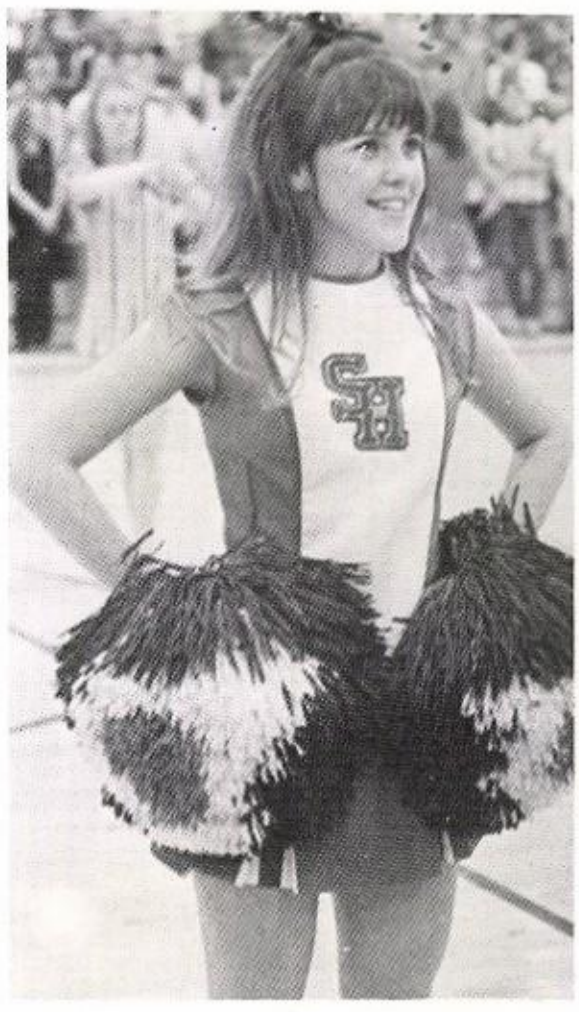
Serving as B-team cheerleaders are four sophomore girls. They, too, work to boost Texan spirit.

The girls are chosen for their position by the student body; all classes pick four girls. The junior and senior elections are held in the spring, and the sophomores vote in early fall.

During the games, both squads strive to unite those from Big Sam in organized cheering.



Clutching her hands, Yvonne Miertschin anxiously anticipates the next move.



After a strenuous rally Karlos Thomas takes a rest during the alma mater.

Being a football player is only one of Debbie Hankey's cheerleading jobs.

MR. SCHOOL SPIRIT

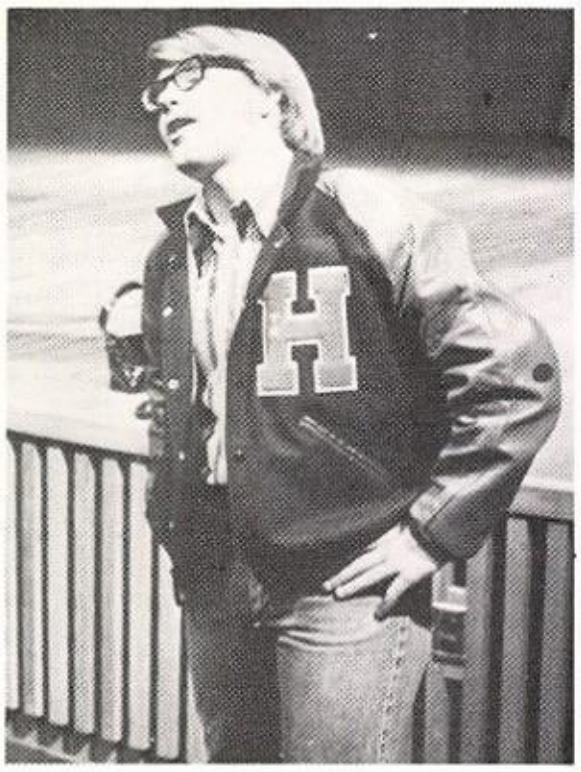
Student Body Elects Steve,

After having been nominated by the Senior Class, Steve Callahan and Patty Farmer were selected by the Student Body as Mr. and Miss School Spirit. They were chosen for their outstanding display of spirit and constant participation in school activities.

Patty was a bellguard and Homecoming Queen nominee. She was active in MBS and Thespians and was a member of American Field Service.

Steve served as vice-president of Student Congress and as a football trainer. He was also active in the Key Club and AFS.

Sitting in front of the jail, Steve Callahan and gunfighters await trouble from the wanted outlaws during the traditional Texan Day activities in the courtyard.



Vice president Steve Callahan voices his opinion at the Congress meeting.

Proving that the good guys always win, Steve carries on with a jail arrest.

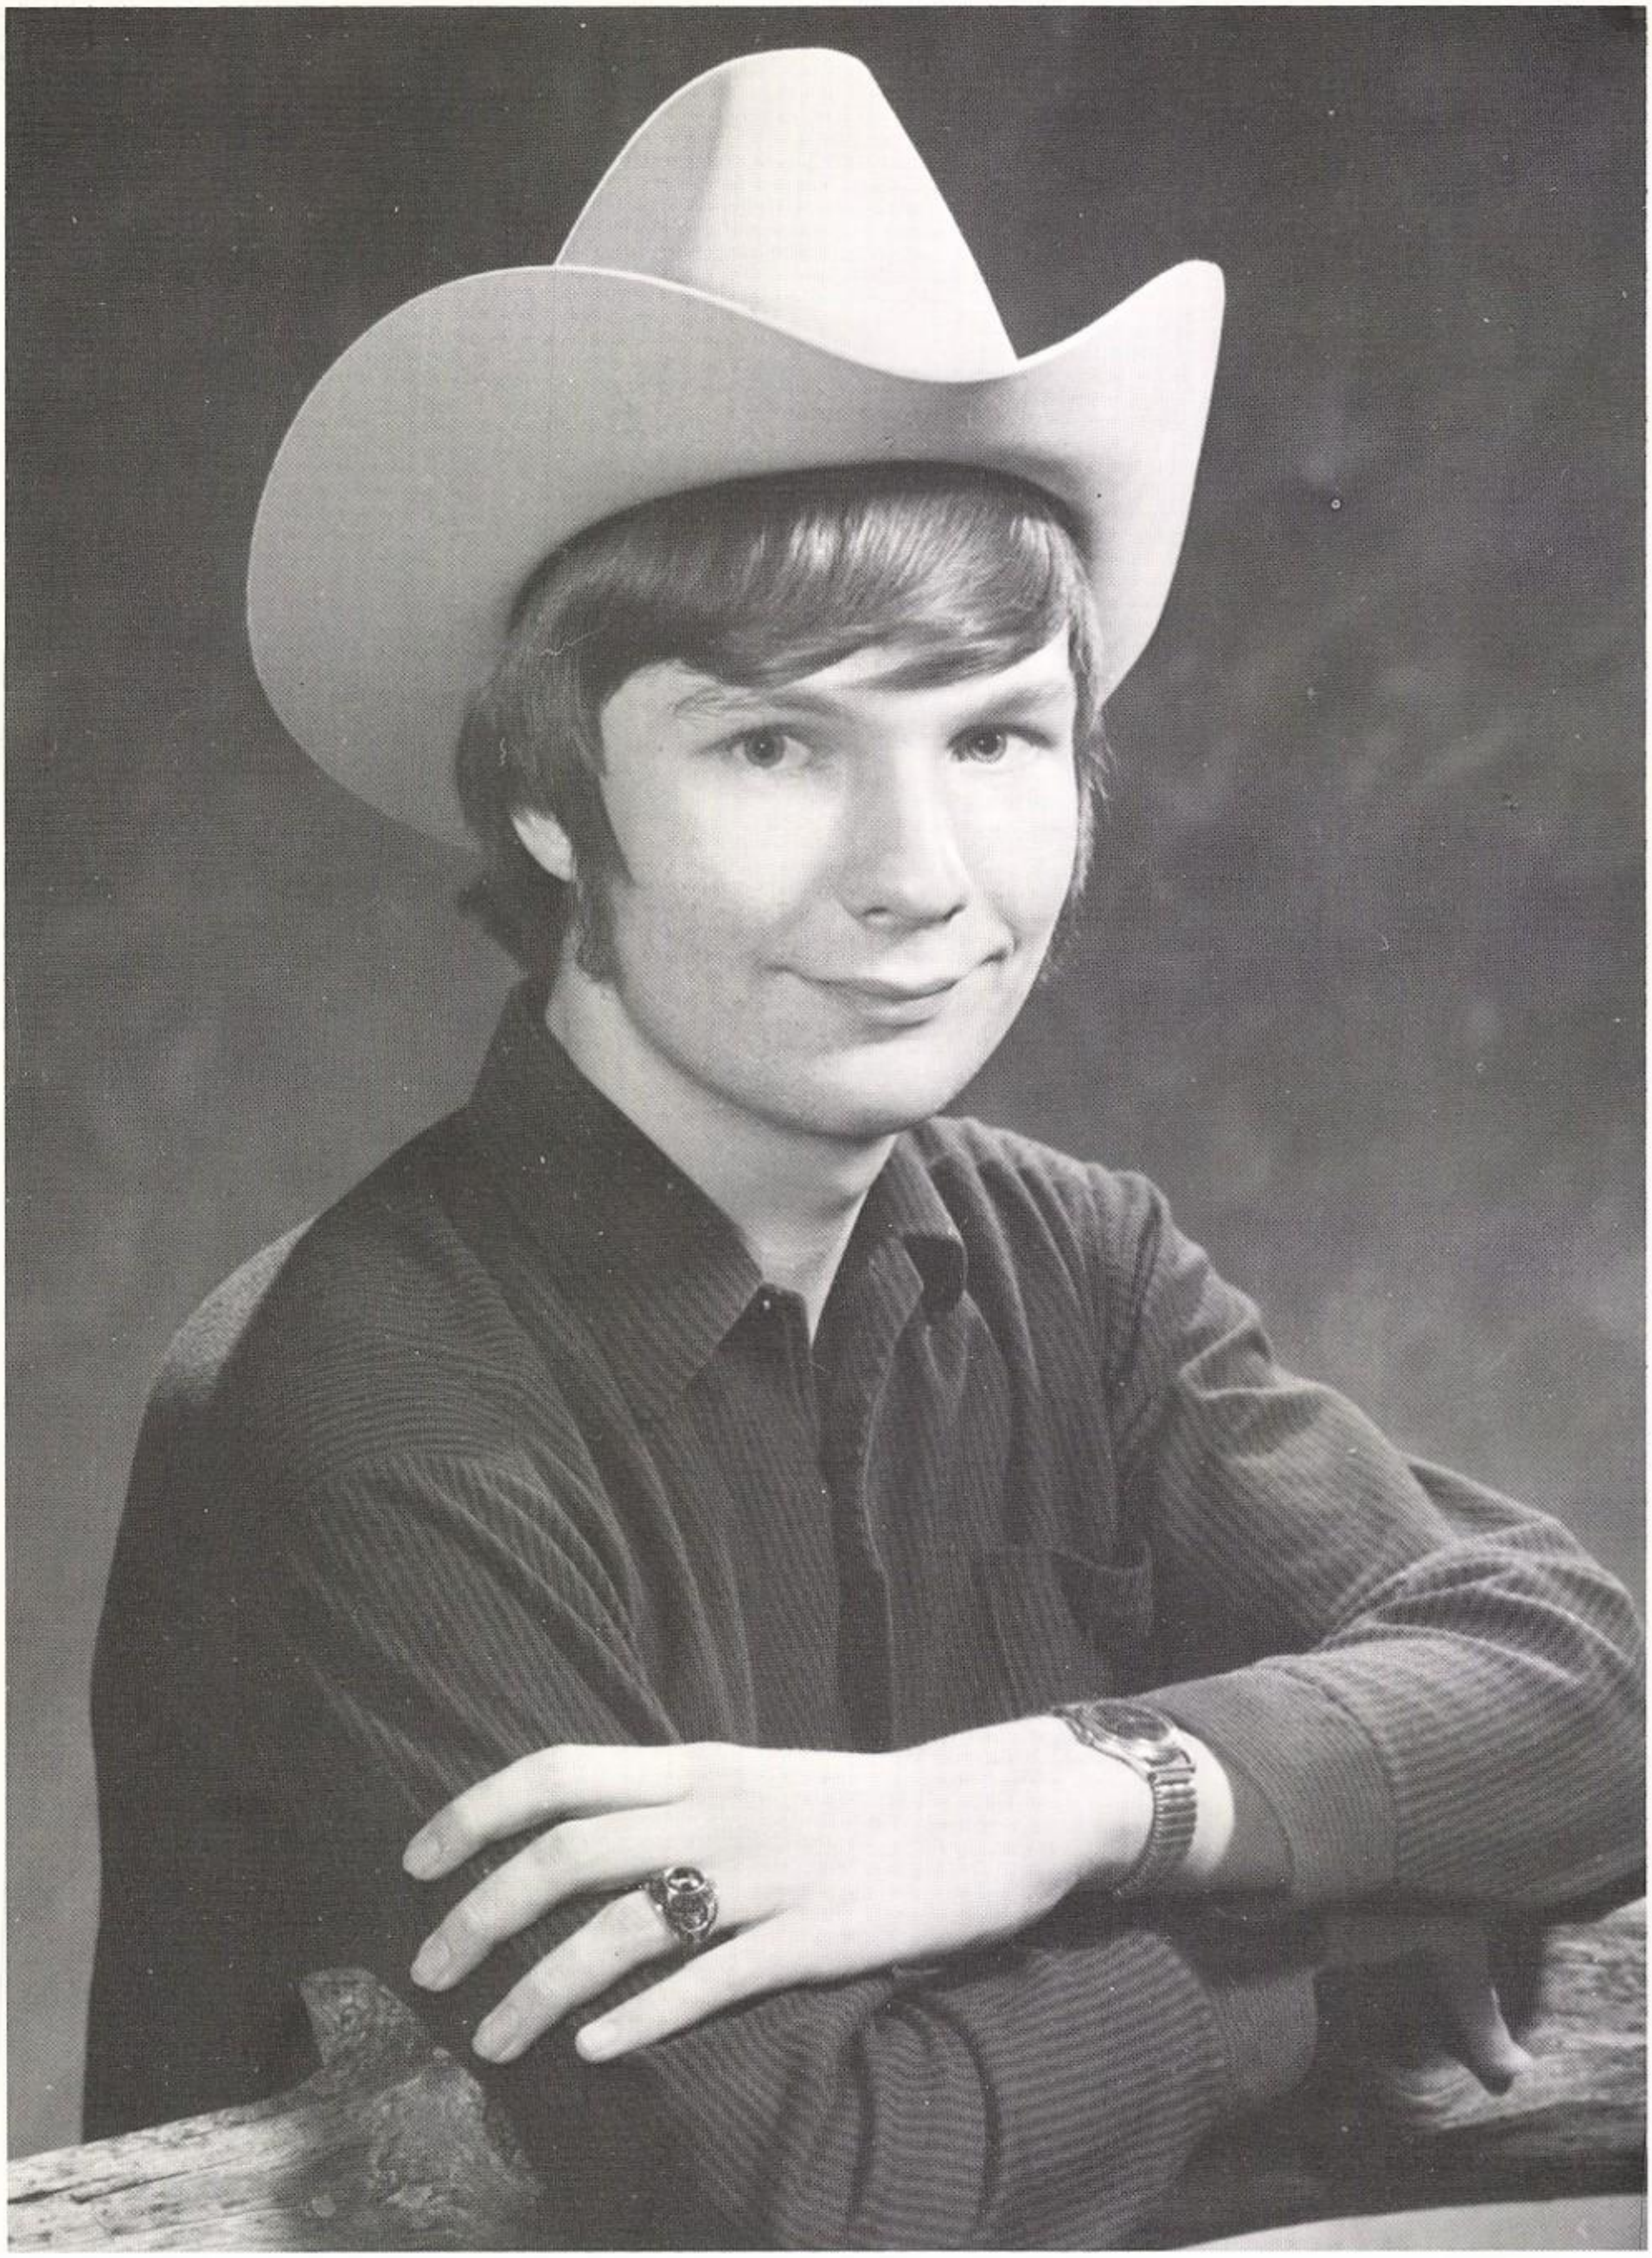
Patty Most Spirited Seniors

Not use to the heat of indoor rallies, Patty cools off by removing her hat.

As bellguard, one of Patty's responsibilities is to help at pep rallies.

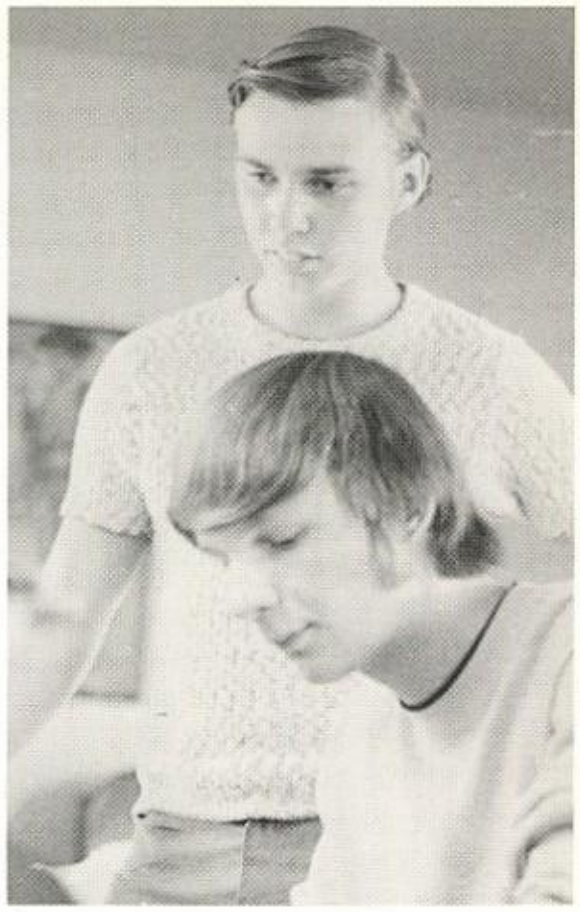
MISS SCHOOL SPIRIT

Looking out for fierce Indians and ferocious animals, Steve Callahan and Patty Farmer, named Mr. and Miss School Spirit, take a trip on the Texan stage coach.



Gifted in sight-reading and singing, Markus looks through the choir music.

Markus Leibold, showing his spirit, displays the Texan flag and ribbons.



Quickly Markus and Evan became good friends, admiring each other's talents.

Markus Adjusts to American Way of Living

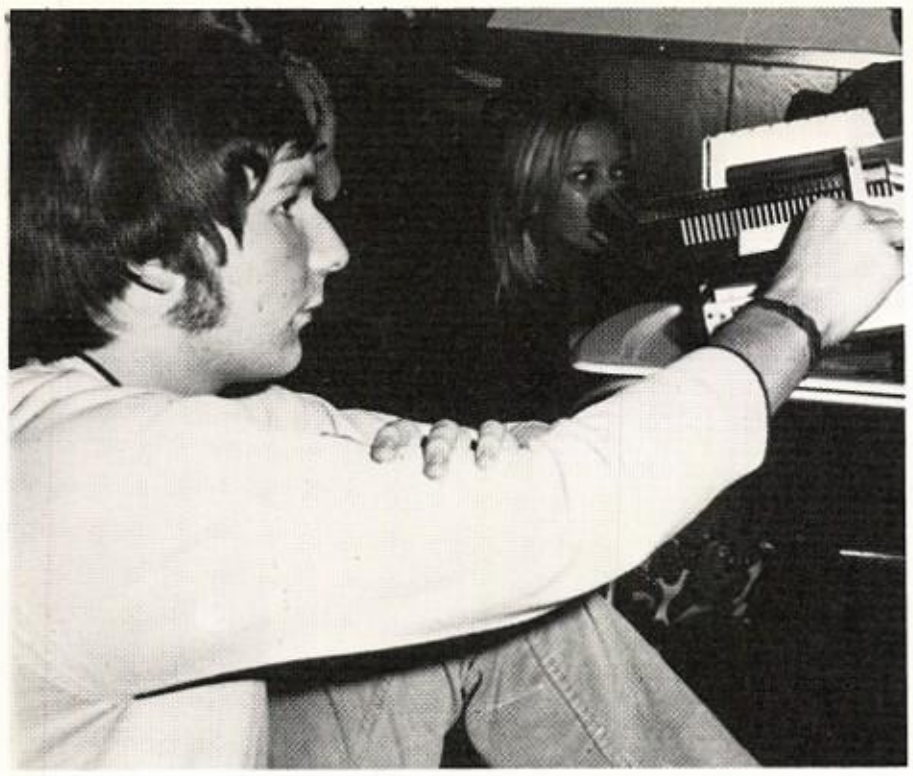
During open house Markus showed a display of pictures and told some humorous stories about his younger days, along with German customs.

Sponsored by AFS, Markus Leibold, this year's foreign exchange student, is from Fulda, Germany.

Being very musically talented, Markus sings well and plays the piano and violin. He is a member of the Singing Texans.

During his stay, Markus is living with the Sam Faris family.

Sharing one of his many talents, Markus sings during an assembly.



At a member's home Markus shows some slides to interested AFS students of Germany, his native land across the ocean.

Trying to find where the trouble is in these American cars seems to puzzle Markus and Evan, his AFS brother this year.

In the process of learning to play pool, Markus has forgotten something.

Getting acquainted with the family and students seemed easy for Markus.

Talented in many phases of the arts, Markus enjoys playing the violin.

Getting away from the hustle-bustle of the everyday life of a foreign exchange student at Sam, Markus entertains his American family by playing their piano.

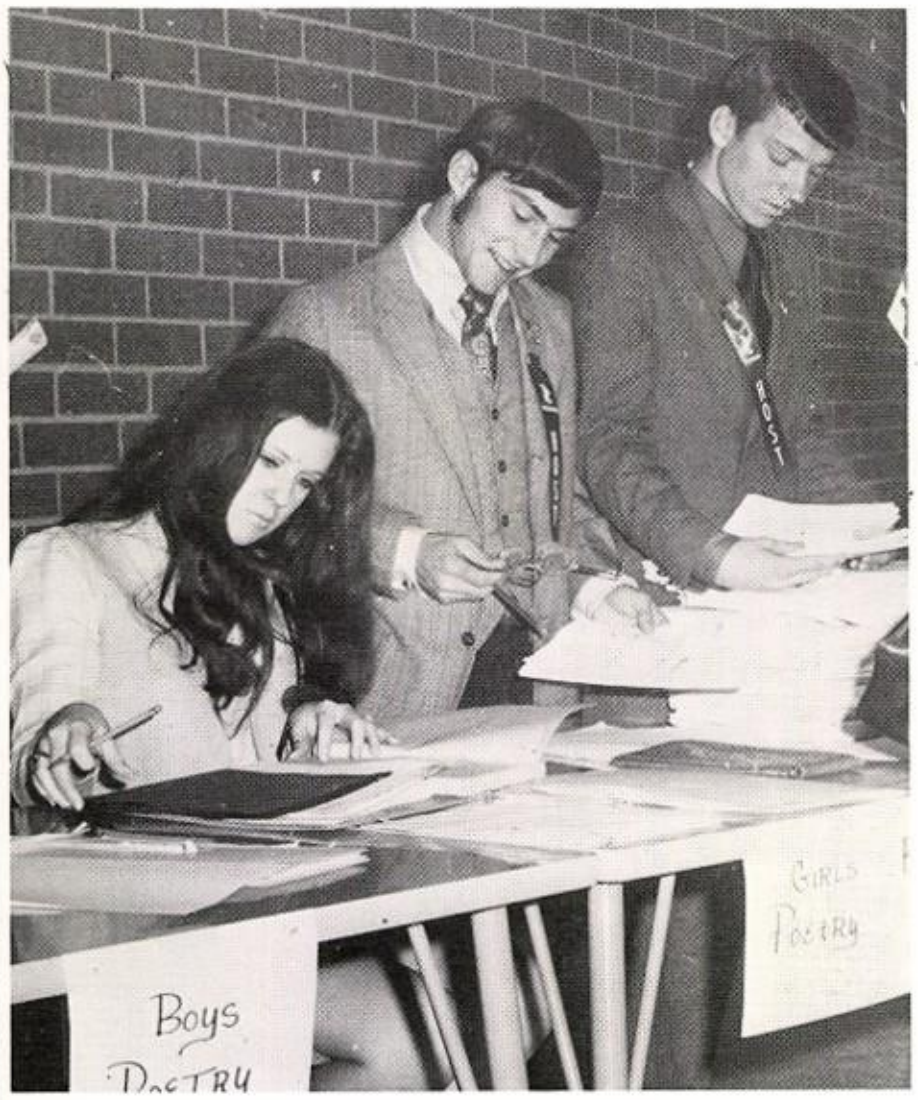
Annual Texan Tournament Held in December

Admiring the trophy received by Jesuit College Prep School, sweepstakes winner in the tournament, are seniors Karen Furtardo, John Rainone, and Cindy Owens.

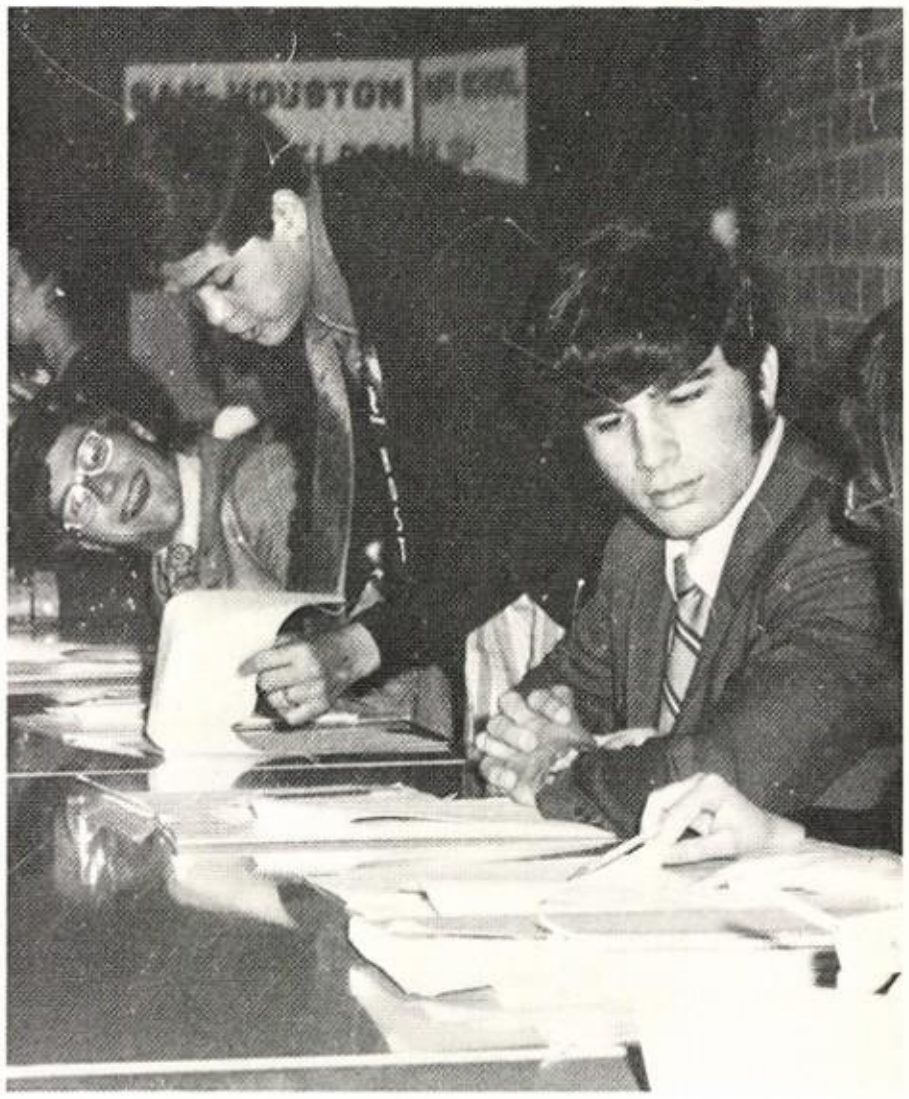
The fourth annual Texan Tournament, sponsored by Thespians and NFL, was held in December. Approximately 25 schools from the North Texas region attended the totally student-run competition.

Over 500 pupils entered the various events, including duet acting, debate, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, prose, poetry and dramatic interpretation and extemporaneous interpretation. Sweepstakes winner was Jesuit from Dallas.

Judges included teachers, ex-students who are drama majors, and outstanding citizens of Arlington.



Seniors Gail Jones, Buddy Rose, and Ricky Brunson help in registering over 500 contestants from 25 regional schools.



Glancing over the activities planned for the tournament, junior Ron Lutz ignores distracting faces from Buddy Rose.

Assemblies Cover Wide Range of Interests

Designed both to inform and entertain, school assemblies provide a break from the regular routine.

The first all-school assembly, held in the courtyard, featured an evangelist, Rev. James Robison. Later on in the year, a representative from Texas A and M spoke to the students about atomic energy.

On March 31 the AFS assembly, honoring foreign exchange students, involved a panel discussion and the presentation of some slides.

Mr. James Robison, famous evangelist, expresses concern for today's youth.

During an all-school assembly on atomic energy, this representative from Texas A and M demonstrates how the power of electricity radiates through a dome reactor.

Highlighting the AFS Day Assembly, Swedish exchange students Anders Mangen and Yvonne Moser present an amusing skit showing how "free love" came into being.

Classified as theater of the absurb, Mannequins' Demise, converges on the theory that drama should be seen and not heard. actors' performances set the entire mood, having few props on the set for emphasis, unlike more conventional productions.

'Mannequins' Demise' Wins First in District

Martha watches anxiously as Ernie, embarrassed by Lolly's apparent disrespect, scolds her by screaming, "You really ought to be more considerate, you slob."

After four weeks of rehearsals, the one-act entry for this year, Mannequins' Demise, received the best rating of any former Sam play in UIL competition.

After winning first in district, held at Sam Houston for the first time, the cast won second in regionals at TCU. Cast members won individual awards in both meets.

Mannequins' Demise, categorized as theater of the absurb, concentrates on the assumption that drama should be seen and not heard. Rhythm, timing, and naturalistic acting are combined for the unique presentation of the production.

Participating in the Festival of Arts, the Drama Department presented Mannequins' Demise to the student body in two assemblies.

Disturbed by Martha's manner regarding some wine bottles, George mocks, "How should I know? Go look in the cellar."

Mannequins Barbara Johannesen, Doug Callas, Susan Manifold, and Craig Brinker are representative of society as a whole. Split-second timing, choreographed moves, and acting abilities were smoothed and perfected after many weeks of rehearsals.

Drama, Choir Combine for All-School Play

Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" set the stage for this year's all-school play. The series of verse epitaphs revealed the true lives of the people who lived and died in Spoon River.

"Spoon River" officially opened the auditorium to the public with its first performance on Nov. 19. This was also the first time that the Drama and Choral Departments combined for a production.

The play was directed by Miss Mildred Peveto, drama teacher, and Mr. Louis Harris, music instructor.

Class of '73 Presents 'How to Succeed'

The second production this year on Sam's stage was "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." This story of a young man's rise to success in the business world provided the source for the first sophomore musical at Sam Houston.

The all-sophomore production, directed by Mr. Louis Harris with assistance from Miss Mildred Peveto, was presented on March 18, 19, and 20. All profits, amounting to over $400, went to the Sophomore Choral Department.

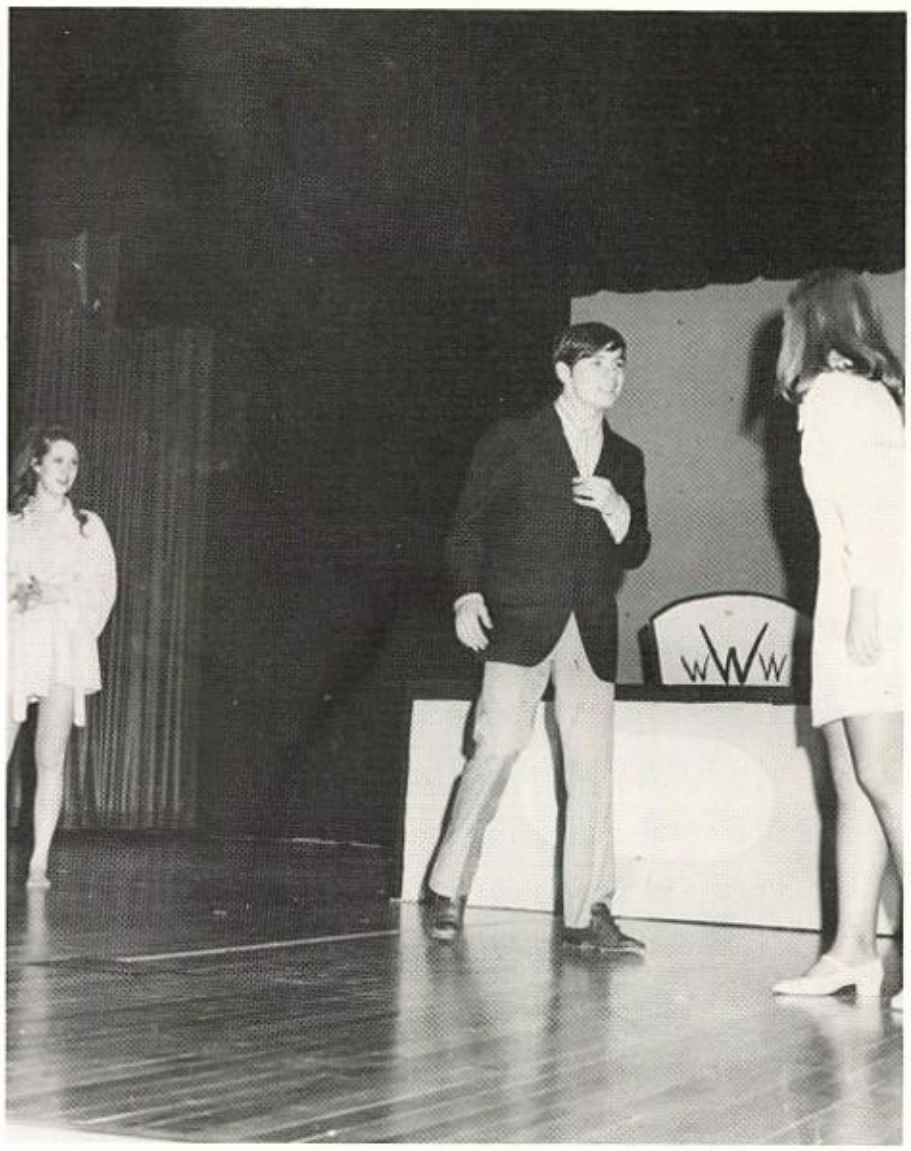
Main Characters

Finch	Barry Boyd
J.B. Biggley	Jay Sabatucci
Rosemary	Barbara Renfro
Bratt	Craig Brinker
Smitty	Pam Boyett
Bud Frump	Richy Hodge
Miss Jones	Susan Manifold
Mr. Twimble	Bobby Bigham
Hedy LaRue	Janna Hopson
Womper	Tom Turner
Student Director	Taffy Davis
Stage Manager	Jim Leonard

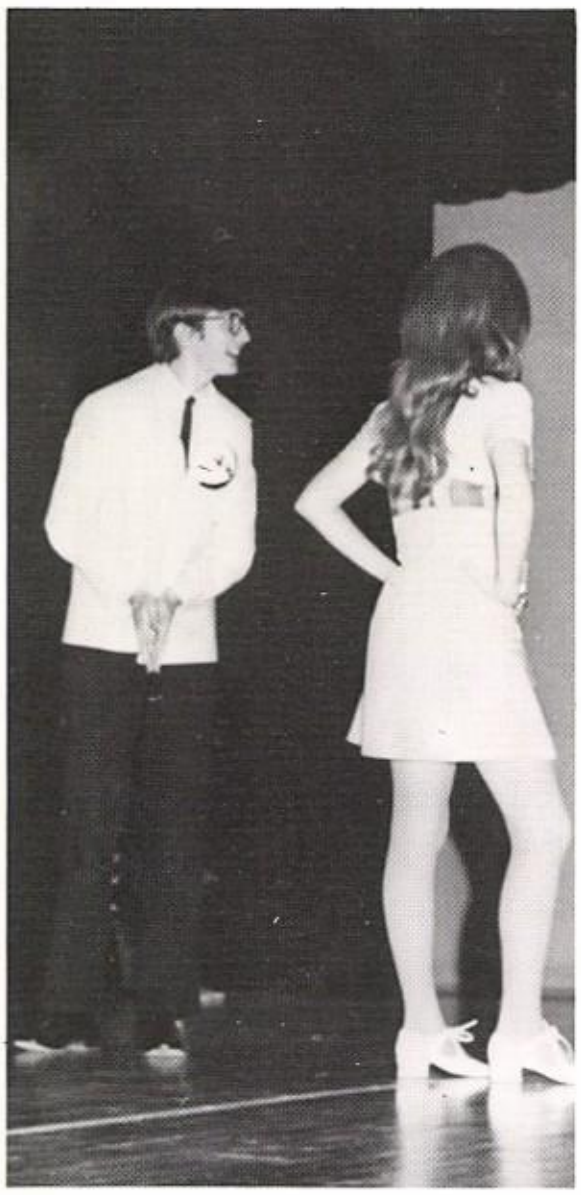
Unaware of the group of hecklers surrounding him, Ovington proceeds to deliver his speech to acquire the position of vice-president with his business firm.

Rosemary listens sympathetically to Finch's anxieties about his position.

Dancers Marcia Payne and Paula Long perform a number which illustrates one of the traps smart businessmen must avoid.



Trying to explain who the unexpected guest is, Finch cannot make Rosemary believe that she is only his secretary.



Interested in her vital statistics, Frump approaches a curvy secretary.

Proving the advantages of relatives working with the same corporation, Frump, the boss's nephew, admires secretary Hedy LaRue at an important board meeting.

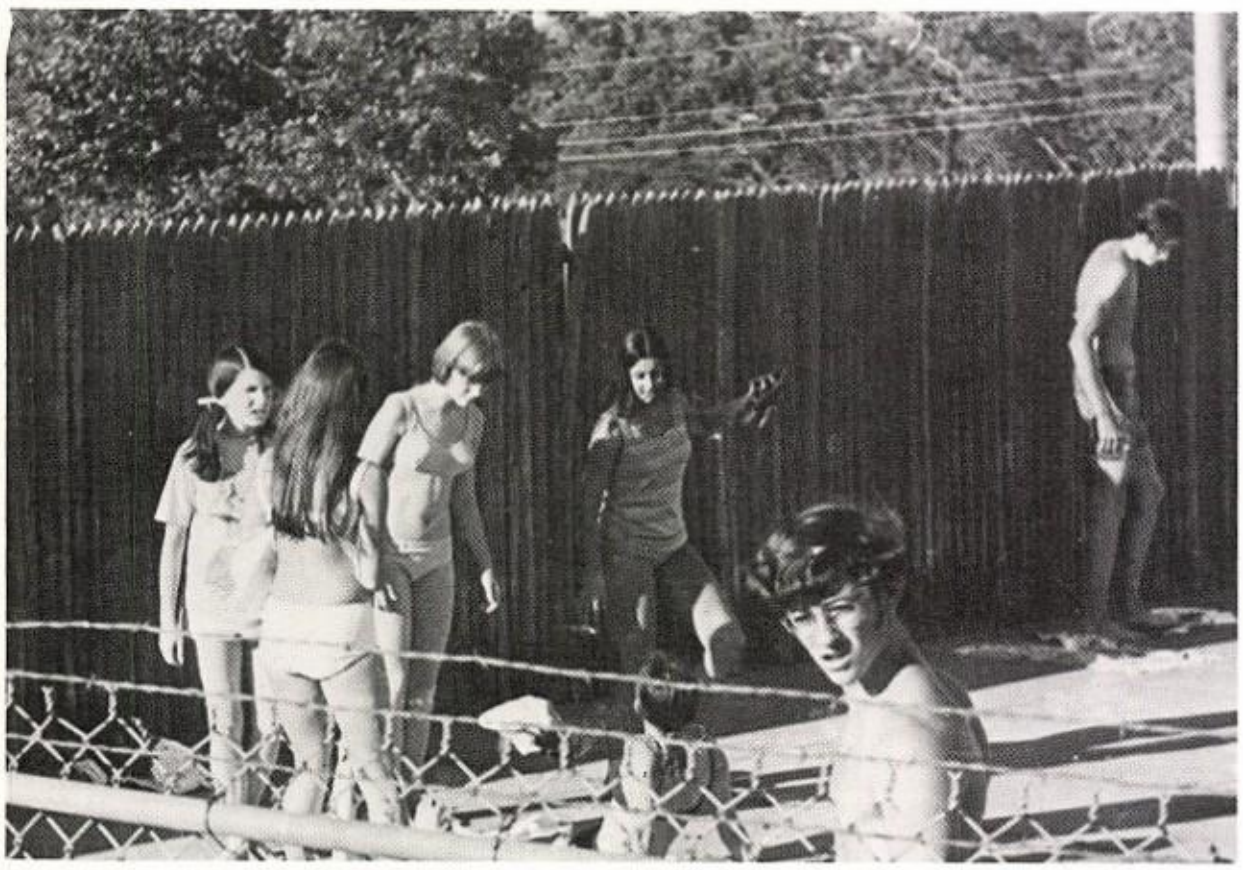
150 Attend Soph Social

Randol Mill Park was the site of the first social for the Sophomore Class. Since each one brought his own supper, the only cost was for drinks, furnished by the class.

Activities included swimming, softball, soccer, and frisbees. After it became too dark to continue the games, the boys built a fire and marshmallows were roasted.

Due to the number of people involved, the event was a great success. By 9 p.m., when the social ended, over 150 students had arrived. All of the officers and six of the sponsors attended.

A group of sophomores find that a shade tree is a comfortable place to stop for a rest. Some of the day's activities included swimming, softball, and soccer.



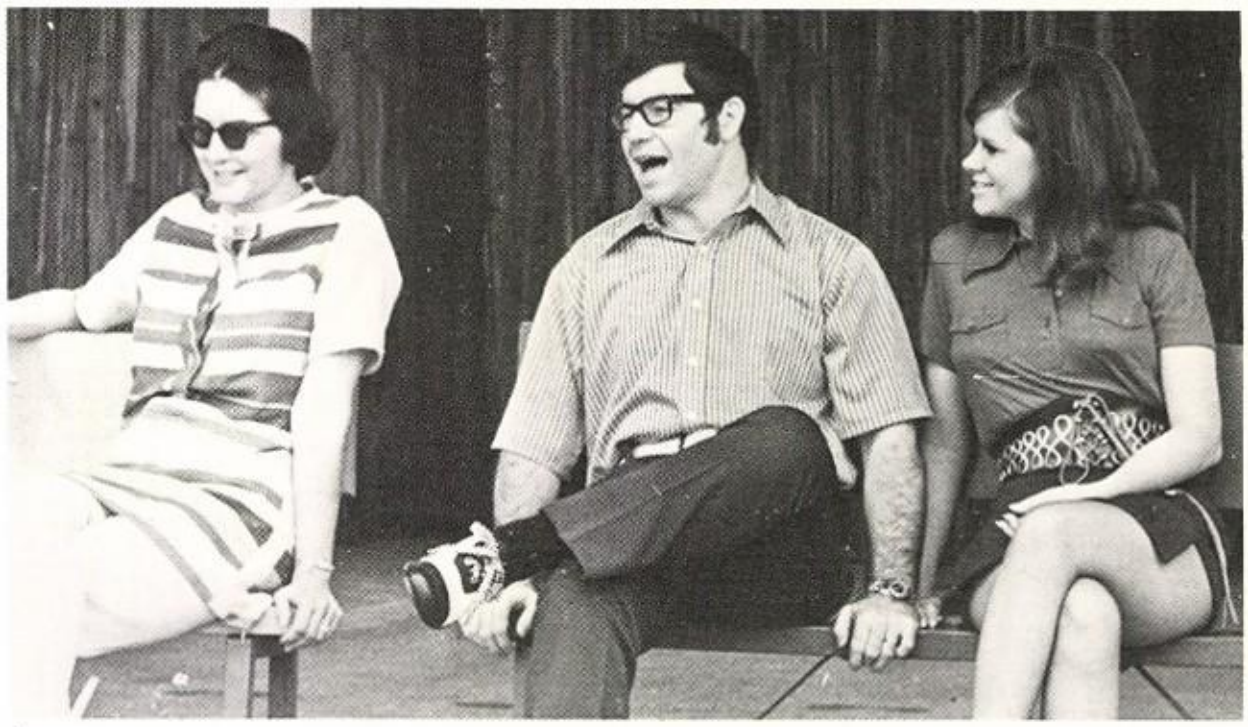
Highlighting the end of the school year, about 125 - 150 sophomores attended the social, a swimming party followed by a marshmallow roast held at Randol Mill.

During a game of frisbee, sophomore Sherry Haney stops to remove a thorn.

Juniors Plan Picnic at Randol Mill Park

The juniors gathered at Randol Mill Park for their annual end of school social. After the original plan to meet at Lakeview Country Club for a buffet dinner and swimming failed, the class officers decided on an informal gathering.

The juniors attending the afternoon social met at Randol Mill Swimming Pool at 3 p.m. on May 17. After swimming for a while, they had a picnic. Everyone brought his own sack lunch. Following lunch the kids played frisbee and a game of softball.



While enjoying the sunshine, Mrs. Rosa Vernon and Mr. David Ware, sponsors of the Junior Class social, discuss amusing activities throughout the afternoon.

When plans failed for a social to be held, May 17 at Lakeview Country Club, the junior officers and sponsors scheduled a picnic at Randol Mill Park. Activities at the party included swimming and throwing frisbees, and 17 juniors attended.

'Flags' Hosts Senior Social

Interrupting final exams with an all-night party, seniors held their traditional social, May 26.

Gathering at Six Flags at 8 p.m., students and their dates enjoyed having the park open only to school groups from Texas and other states.

Ticket sales for the party were handled by volunteers of the PTSA, some of whom also served as chaperones for the event.

Once students entered the park they were expected to remain until 2 a.m. when the social was scheduled to end.

Because this was the only time that Six Flags could schedule the social, seniors were not required to report for their fourth and fifth period exams until 12:30 p.m.

Even though the results of the log ride are wet clothes and wet hair, the seniors find it to be the most popular and exciting ride in the amusement park.

After a fun-filled night at Six Flags, some decide that the ground is as good as a chair when it comes time to rest.

Boarding the old-timey cars, Nila Fillingim and date take advantage of the rides at the senior social at Six Flags.

Seniors Honored by 'Sammies' at Breakfast

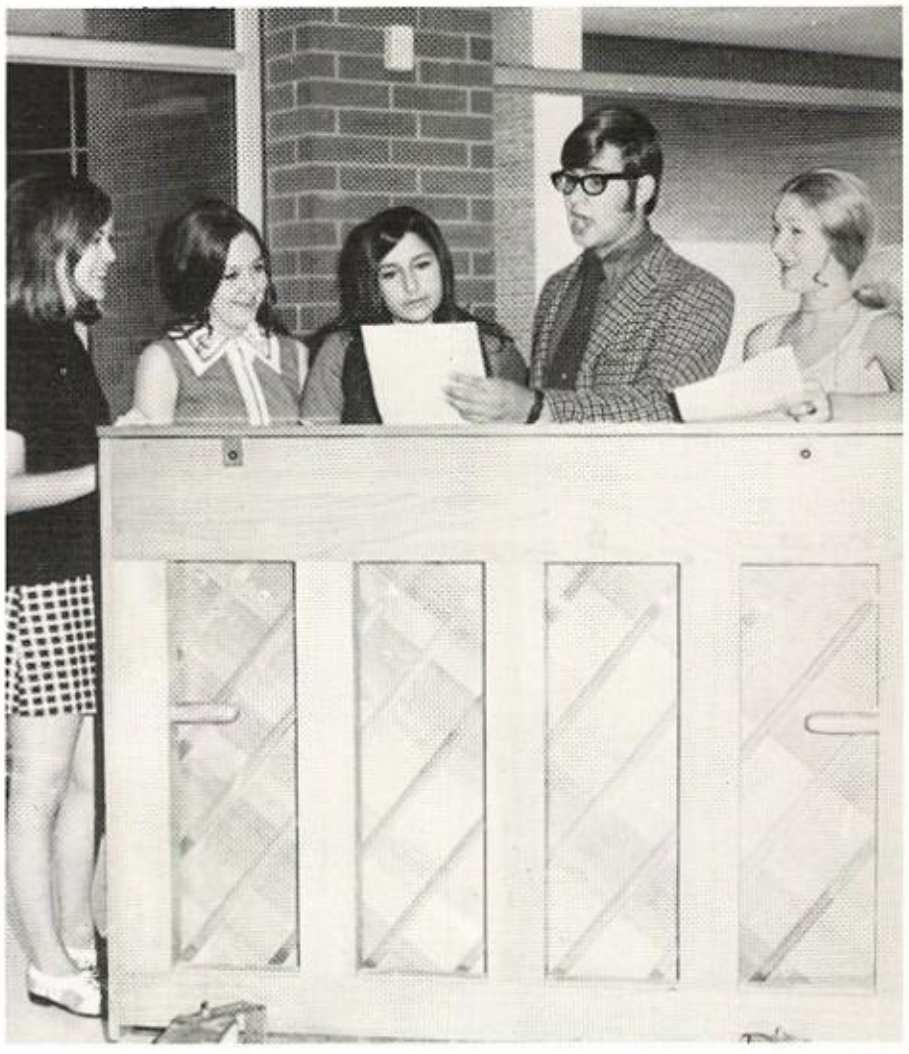
"Recognized" for their special trademarks and obvious faults, students received "unique" Sammies for everything from Shirley Temple dimples to the hairiest.

Serving ham, sweet rolls, coffee, milk, and orange juice, the Junior Class sponsored the Senior Breakfast on Friday, May 21. Juniors decorated the cafeteria with red, white, and blue streamers and '71 posters. The breakfast, honoring upperclassmen, began at 6 a.m. and continued until 7:30 a.m. when the Sammy Awards were presented.

Making the presentations were next year's bellguards, Judy Makowski, Cheryl Mitchell, Wayne Jolly, and Danny Henderson. Several of those given included the All Hands Award to Richard Clay, the Hairiest Award to Karen Furtardo, and the Good Language Award which was given to Vic Morriss.

Following the breakfast, Junior Class officers sold the extra sweet rolls and milk to the student body.

Utilizing the leftovers from the breakfast that morning, juniors sold donuts and milk to students during the day.



Prior to the breakfast for the Senior Class of 1971, Rex Perry scans the program and gives out final instructions.

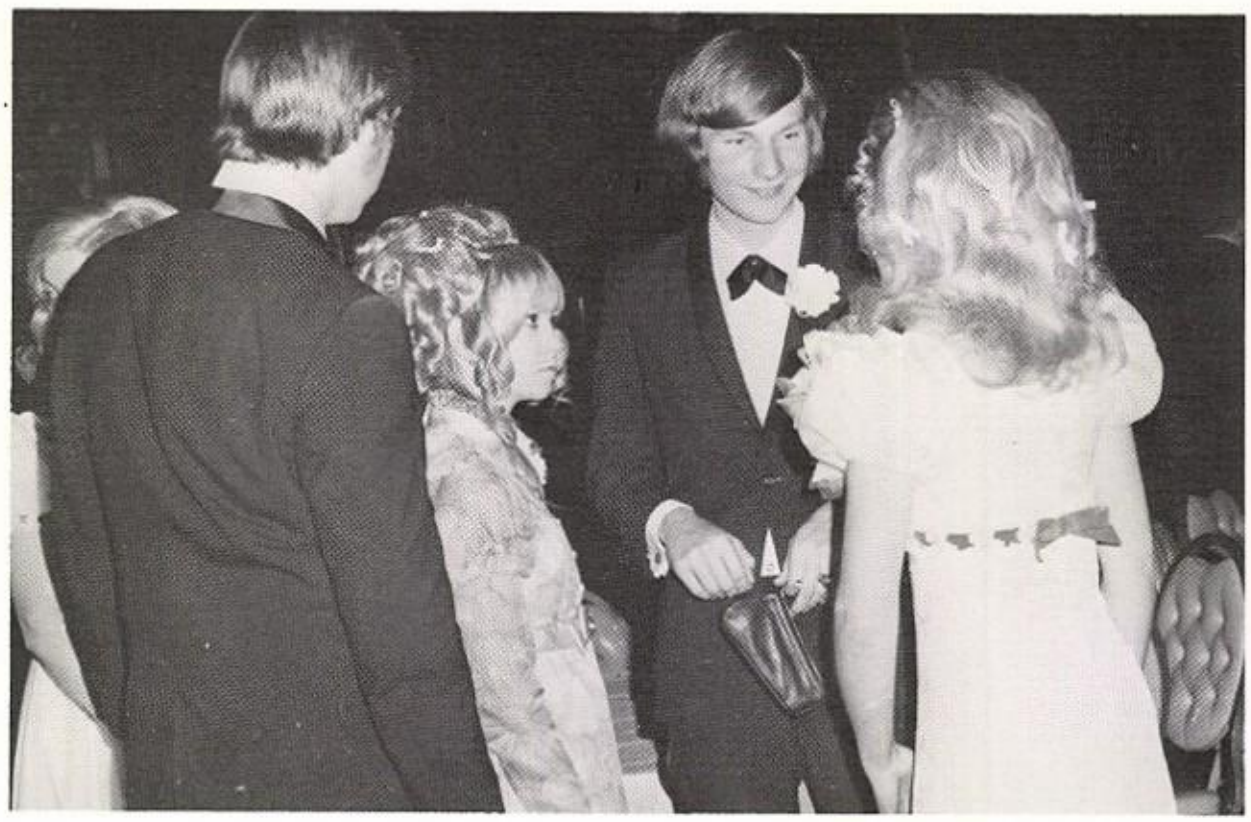
Providing entertainment for the Senior Prom, "The Soul Purpose" arranged many selections of today's rock and roll music. In order to pay for the cost of entertainment and the ballroom, the Senior Class sponsored several money-raising projects.

Golden Palace Site of Early Spring Prom

Using the theme "A Walk into the Future," the Senior Prom occurred on April 3. After having voted on the location and menu, members of the Senior Class enjoyed both the banquet and prom at the Golden Palace at the Inn of Six Flags.

"Soul Purpose," a well-known area group, provided dance music. Members of administration attended as special guests.

One of the highlights of the senior year, the prom, came about after several money-raising projects by the class. Officers sold Texan license plates, Sam Houston T-shirts, and staged a series of "movie nights" throughout the year.



Sam's foreign exchange student, Markus Leibold, learns what an "American Prom" is really all about, as he discusses this big event with a few of his friends.

Recalling past school experiences, seniors Gary Hickson, Debbie Barton, Steve Dormier, Debbie Hankey, Howard Boykin, and Suzanne Thresher relax at the prom.

Sponsors Coach Hyden and Mr. Remynse study modern dances with disbelief.

Beginning with a banquet of filet mignon, approximately 500 students attended the Senior Prom this year, which featured the theme "A Walk into the Future."

Attracted by the music, couples take to the dance floor in formal attire.

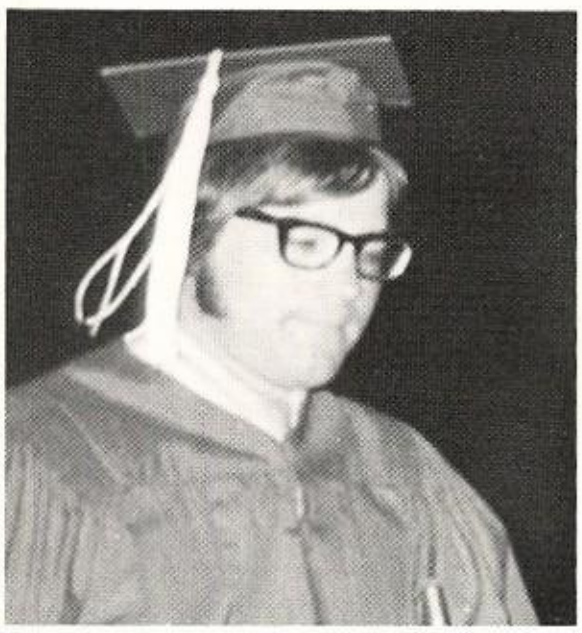
Relaxing while taking care of "personal" business, Steve takes advantage of Mr. Remynse's absence from his office.

"Tooky tooky," whispers Steve Callahan, as he tickles Mrs. Baldwin, his favorite English teacher, disrupting class.

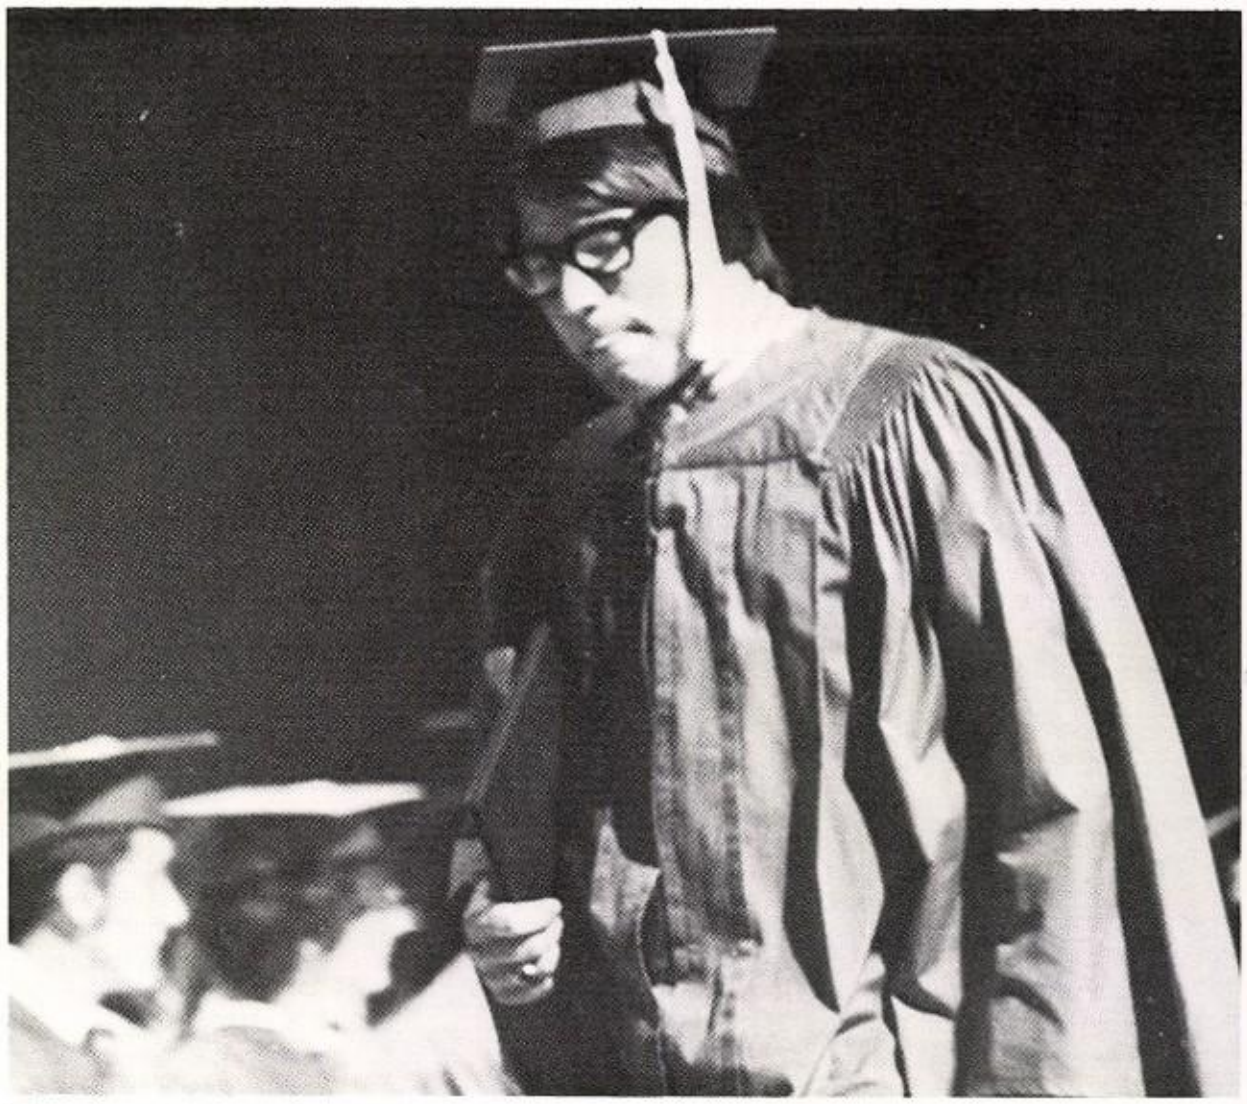
Fun-Loving Steve Chosen as Mr. SHHS

Being chosen as Mr. Sam Houston, Steve Callahan received one of the highest honors to be obtained.

Steve, vice-president of Student Congress, was elected as Mr. School Spirit earlier in the year. Steve was a football trainer and active in Key Club and AFS.



Graduation marks end of busy year for Steve's involvement in activities.



Thoughts of his high school life seem to pass in front of Steve when the realization of graduation and getting his diploma become something besides a dream.

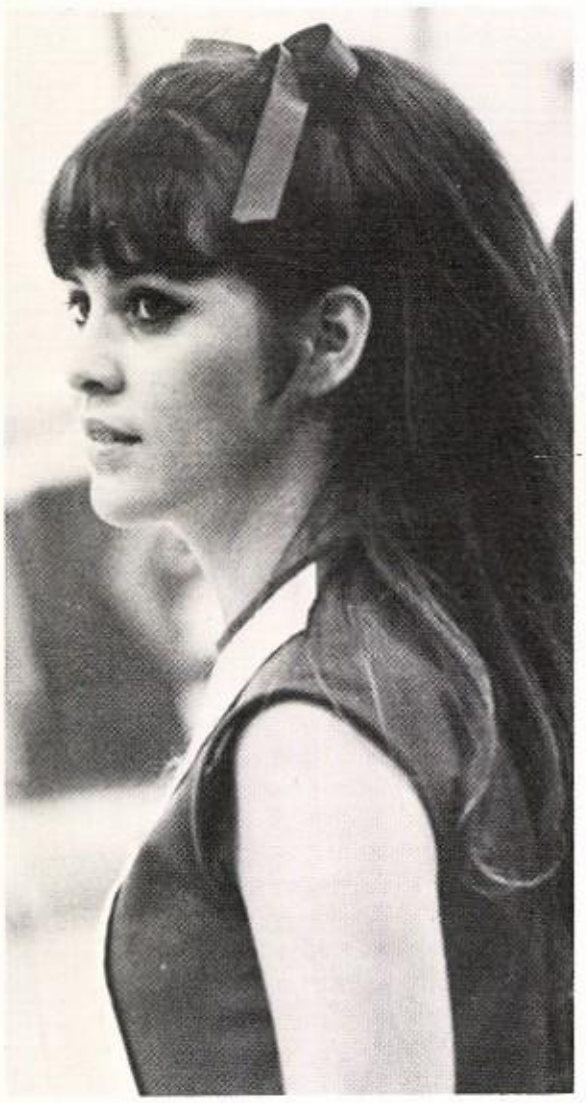
Dimpled Cheerleader Achieves Distinction of Miss SHHS

"We got it," exclaims Steve to Karlos when Mr. and Miss SHHS were announced.

Very musically inclined, Karlos Thomas enjoys playing her organ at home.

Elected by the student body from a group of six senior girls, Karlos Thomas was named Miss Sam Houston.

Being very active, Karlos was a cheerleader during her three years at Sam. At the close of football season she was crowned Homecoming Queen. Karlos was a member of Interact, FBLA, A Cappella choir, and Student Congress.



Looking at the scoreboard, cheerleader Karlos Thomas seems confused.

"Love is a many splendored thing."

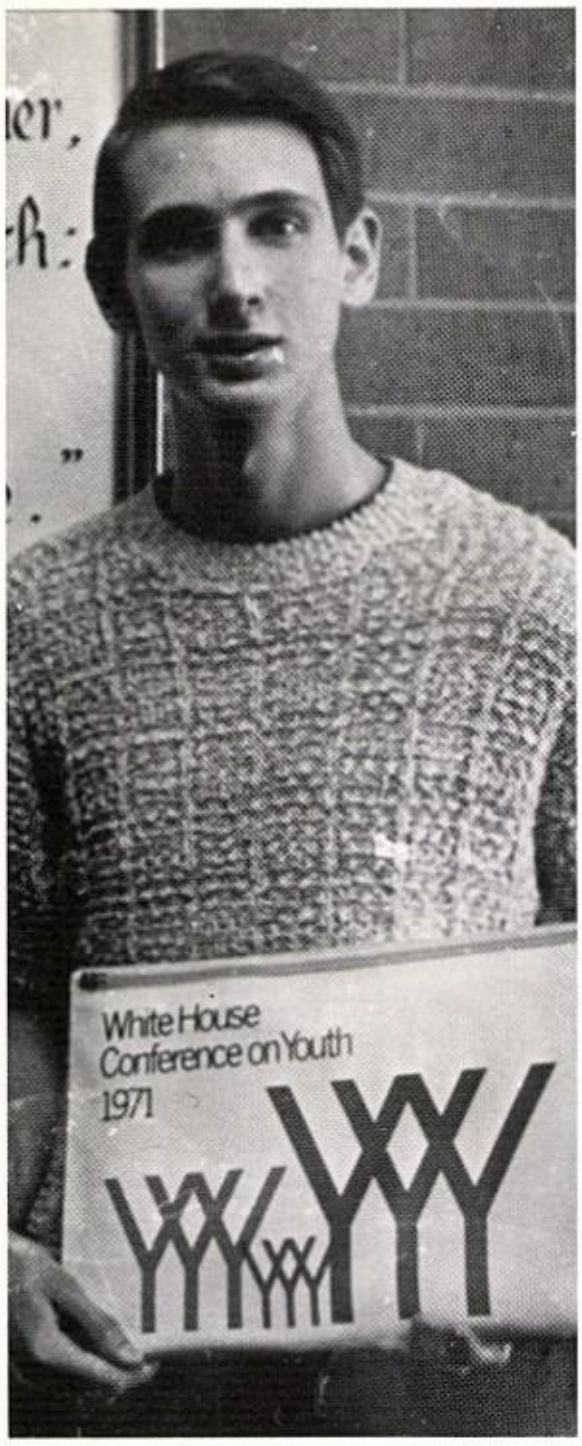
Students Honored in Activities Performed During School Year

Among the special honors awarded were band and choir service awards. The band award was given to Neva Smaltz and choir awards went to Matt Nugent, Barbara Johnson and Evan Faris.

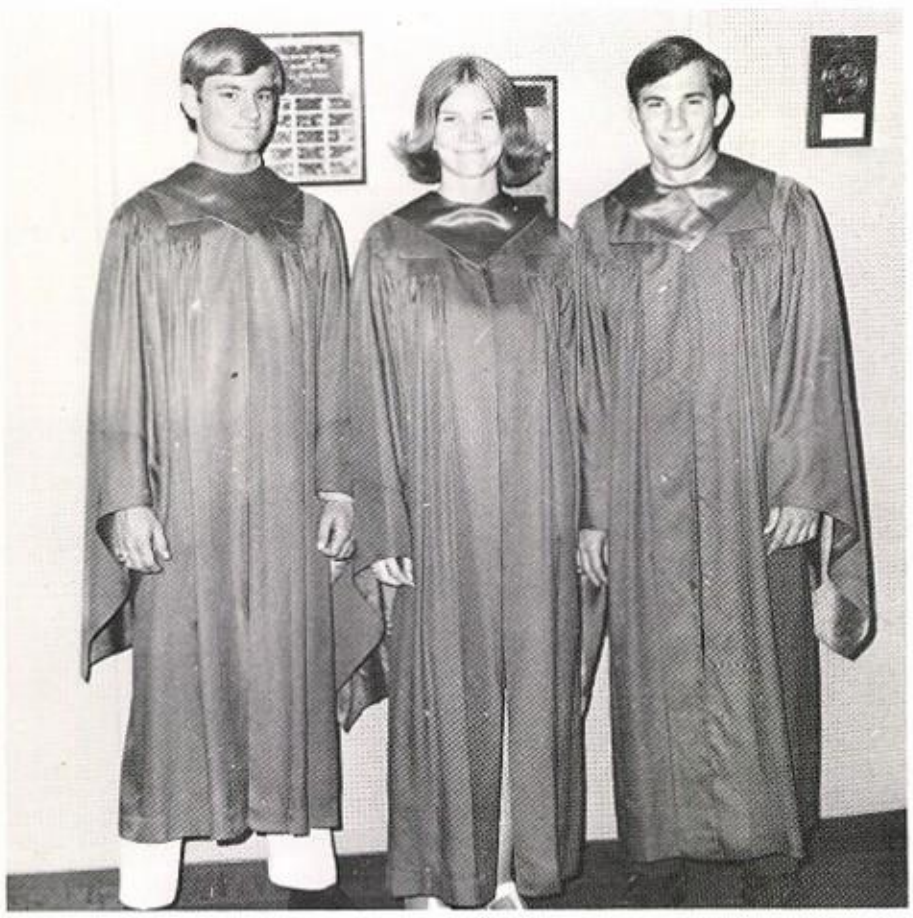
Bruce Williamson, Mary Strawn and John McKown became finalists in National Merit Competition.

Also bringing honors to Sam was Doug Maner, sophomore, who participated in the White House Conference on Youth. As a representative, Doug discussed America's economy.



Getting to meet other delegates was a lifetime experience for Doug Maner.

Active Texans, John McKown, Mary Strawn and Bruce Williamson, were announced as national Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Semifinalists, competing against 14,750.



Receiving the service awards Bryan Beale, Barbara Johnson and Matt Nugent participated in all choir activities.

"Good is never good enough," says Mr. Rober as Neva Smaltz, winner of the band service award, continues to entertain.

Jamie Johnson, winner of the homemaking award, takes time to talk with Mrs. Tannahill, SHHS family living teacher.

Danny Davis, senior, received a plaque during the May 21 assembly for his excellent work in the photography field.

Qualified Students Win Awards During Assembly Held May 21

Each year recognition is given to students who make outstanding achievements in a particular field. The presentation of these departmental awards is included in the annual awards assembly.

Stormy Myers, who received the foreign language award, completed four years of Spanish and two of French while at Sam. Jamie Johnson is the first boy to receive the award from Homemaking.

Mr. Harold Key presents Jerry Hiller the outstanding math student plaque.

Selected as the outstanding senior students in the fields of science and social sciences by the teachers at Sam Houston were Tom Hawkins and Paul Hutchison.

Peeking out of the girls dressing room door, physical education winner Tony Metz, discovers the finer aspects of gym.

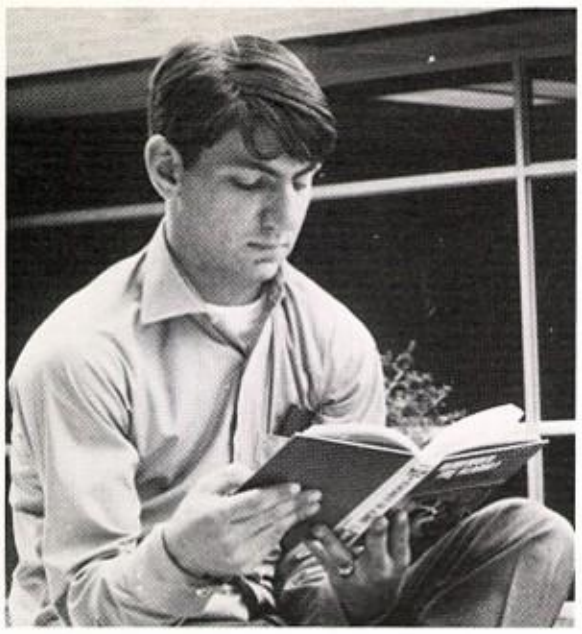
Linda Davis, business award winner, also went to national competition in Indiana because of her speed in shorthand.

This year's outstanding senior member of office education is Brenda Lane.

Gary McMillan and Helen Pratz, ICT, Ed Gandy, DE, and Bill Miles, vocational training, were all honored for excelling in a particular field of job training.

Receiving the departmental award for being exceptional in a particular phase of education for their three years at Sam Houston, the faculty recognized Claudia Perkins, top journalist; Lynette Coleman, best artist; and Buddy Rose for drama.

Robin Donohoe, Stormy Myers, Gary McMillan, Diana Van Dam, Bill Miles, Jerry Hiller, LaNell Harrison, Peggy Craighead, Jody Thomas, Mark Casburn, Glenna Magee, Sherry Nicholson, Neva Smaltz, Karen Furtardo and Helen Pratz were all honored at the assembly.



The outstanding library assistant for this year is senior Larry Webb.

For her ability in foreign languages, Stormy Myers was presented an award.

First girl ever in stage band, Diana Van Dam was presented the band award.

Accompanist to Mrs. Young this year, Cyndy McKinney won the choir award.

The English Department recognized Cindy Owens as their best student.

Danny Davis, Jeff Neal, Judy Emery, Cindy Owens, Buddy Rose, Lynette Coleman, Claudia Perkins, Linda Davis, Brenda Lane, James Folta, and Cyndy McKinney were all recipients of either a scholarship, departmental, activity or a special award on May 21.

SHHS Students Receive Special Awards

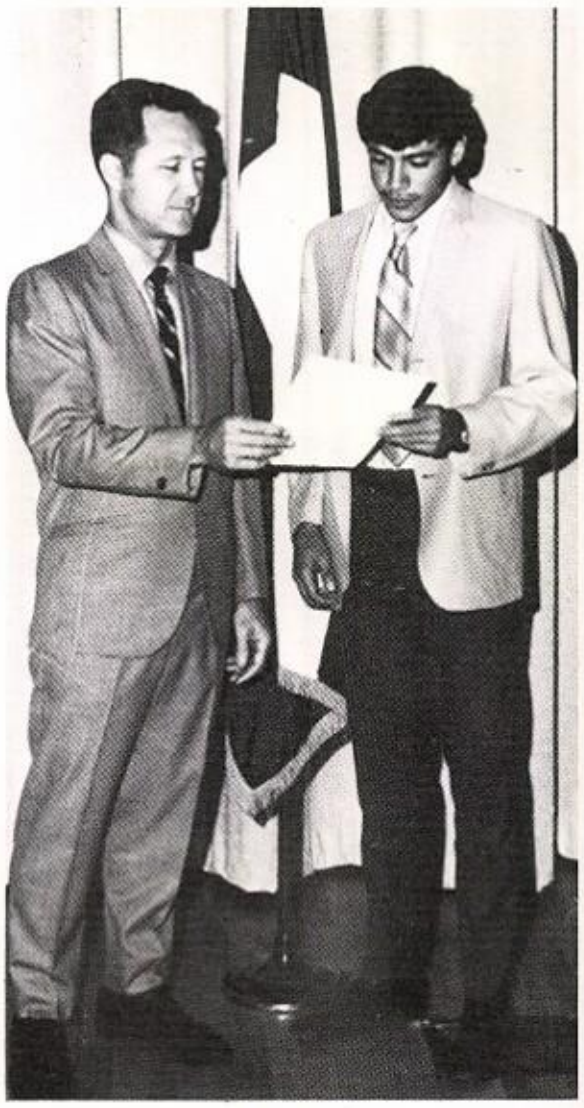
Every year special honors are given to some outstanding students for their endeavors during their high school years.

For the first year, Sam Houston has had a state winner in the Elks Leadership Scholarship Contest. Senior Karen Furtardo was the recipient of this award. Also for the first time, a Sam Houston candidate, Cynthia Farhat, won the Miss Cinderella title.

Each year TSTA awards a scholarship to an Arlington high school student. This year was SHHS's turn, and Sherry Nicholson received the honor.

The Mike Green Scholarship was presented to Pete De Los Santos.

Recipient of the Chopin Accompanist Award by the Arlington Music Teachers Association for his excellence in the area of piano playing was senior Gregg Phipps.



Pete De Los Santos receives the Mike Green Scholarship from Mr. Nohavitza.

In honor of Dr. Joe Rape, the Lions Club presented a scholarship to Pat Williams for a full year for books and tuition.

Scholarship chairman Mrs. Lucy Cleaven from the ladies service club, Soroptomists, presented Cathy Schultz their award.

Because of her involvement in activities, Karen Furtardo won the Elks State Leadership Award, a first at Sam Houston.

Another first at Sam Houston occurred when Cynthia Farhat was crowned this year's Miss Cinderella by Debbie Ireland.

Mrs. Leo Hurley of PTSA and Mrs. Flo Gobel of TSTA presented Sherry Nicholson and Glenna Magee, respectively, with scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

Mrs. Bill Wallace presented Nancy Pinchera the Business Scholarship.

16 Seniors Honored by Community Clubs

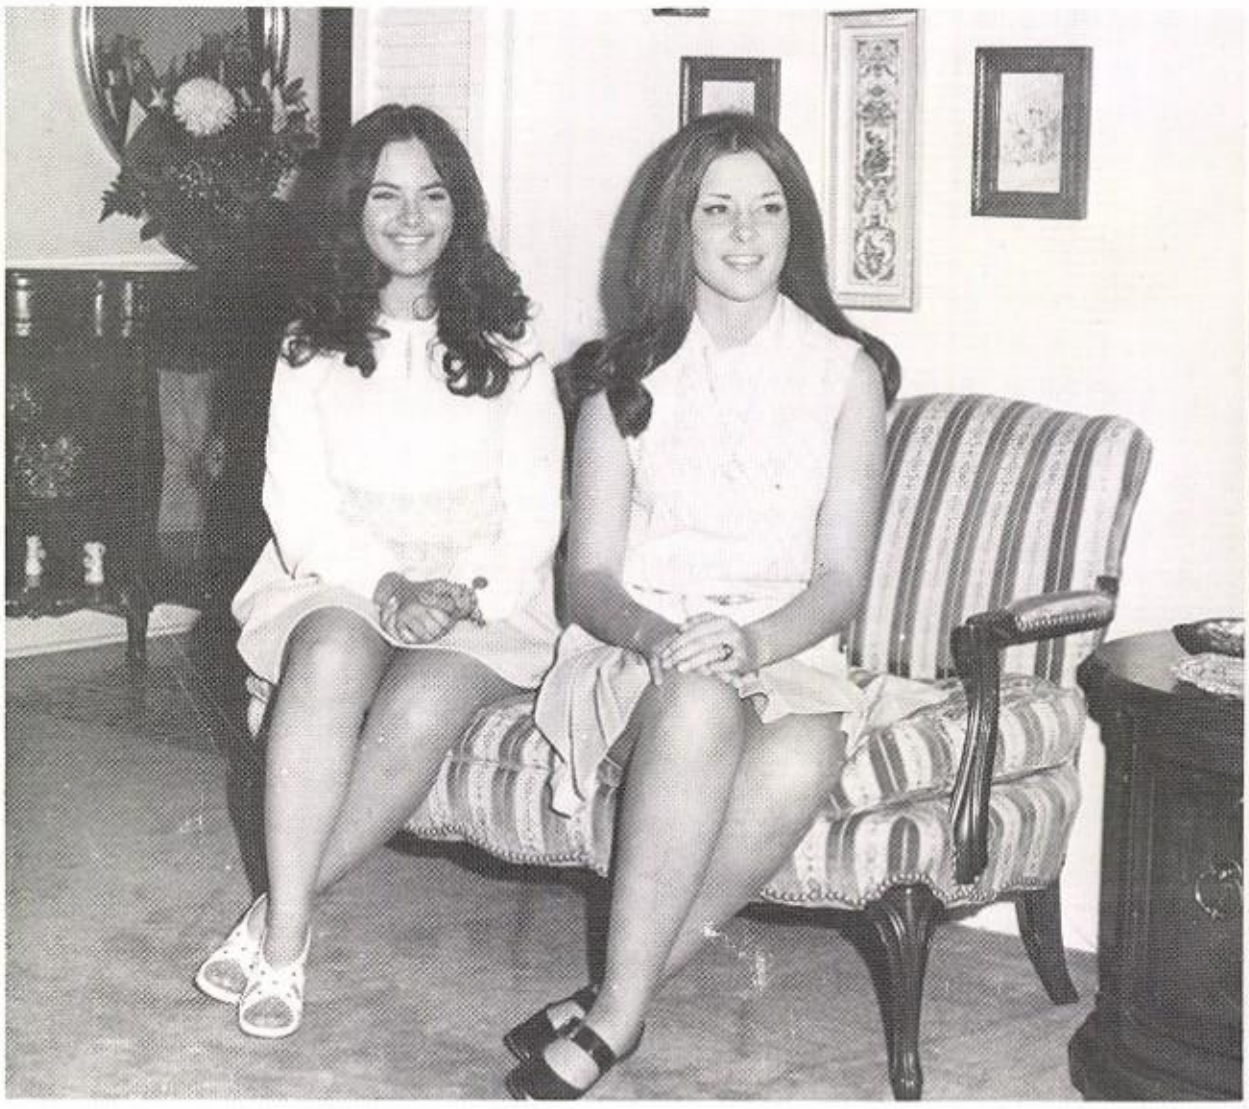
Two civic organizations pick a girl a month to represent them.

At a Chamber of Commerce spring luncheon, the girls presented the program. Judy Emery presided and Joyce Hague was secretary.

Robin Donohoe was chosen as the Girl of the Year by the Junior Civic League. A buffet dinner was held in May for the girls.

Chamber of Commerce chose Judy Emery and Joyce Hague as student officers.

Recognized by the Arlington Civic Club, Karlos Thomas, Yvonne Miertschin, and Janet Morris, SHHS Girls of the Month, enjoy a salad supper given in their honor.



The Junior Civic Club chose Karen Furtardo and Patricia Farmer as Girls of the Month for October and November. One senior girl was named by the club monthly.

for Arlington 'Girls of the Month'

Also chosen as Civic Club Girls of the Month are Kathi Thomas, December; Paula Humphries, February, and Cindy Owens, May, all active seniors at school this year.

Civic Club recognized Robin Donohoe as Girl of the Year over eight girls.

Chamber of Commerce recognized seven outstanding girls, one every month, to represent the club. Attending monthly luncheons were Debbie Hankey, Jackie Martin, Debbie Jacobs, Judy Emery, Rhew Ann Barrick, and not pictured, Judy Morris and Joyce Hague.

Courage, determination, and outstanding character describe James Folta, given the I Dare You Award for his abilities.

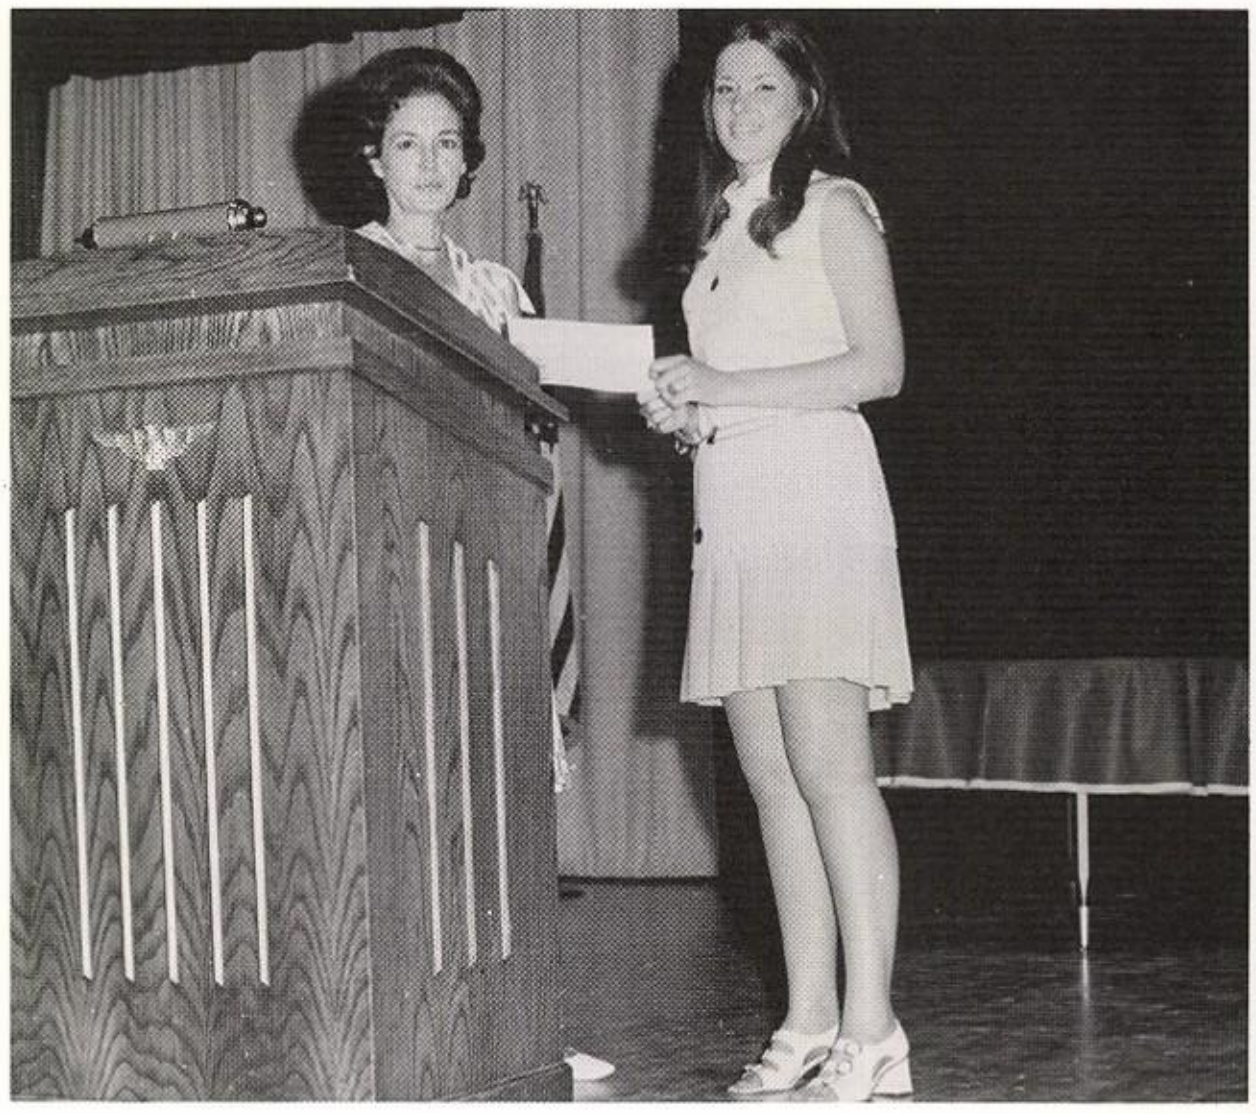
Standing tall, walking tall, and living tall are all characteristics of Robin Donohoe, recipient of the I Dare You Award.

Active Seniors Awarded for Dependability

The I Dare You Award is given to two seniors who have shown outstanding character and determination. Both named Top Ten Seniors, Robin Donohoe and James Folta were chosen to receive the award.

Bellguard Patty Farmer was selected as recipient of the DAR Award for superior service to her community and school.

ROTC sweetheart Patty Farmer acts as hostess during a military reception.



For superior service to school and her community was just one of the reasons why Patty Farmer was presented the Daughters of American Revolution Award this year.

Rotary, American Legion Recognize Four Students' Leadership Qualities

Each year the civic organizations of Arlington present several awards. Representatives from the American Legion and Rotary Clubs honor the seniors they feel worked hardest to better school and community activities.

The American Legion chose Matt Nugent, president of the A Cappella Choir, and Karen Furtardo, Student Congress president, as recipients.

Judy Emery, Cherokee editor, and varsity football player Jeff Neal received the Rotary Award.

Mr. Otto Pokladnik presented Karen Furtardo the American Legion Award.

For his fine leadership qualities, Matt Nugent accepts the Legion Award.

Mr. Harold Key, Sam Houston principal, proudly presents the annual Rotary Award to Jeff Neal and Judy Emery for their involvement in the school and community.

Becky, Maureen Recipients of Top Honors

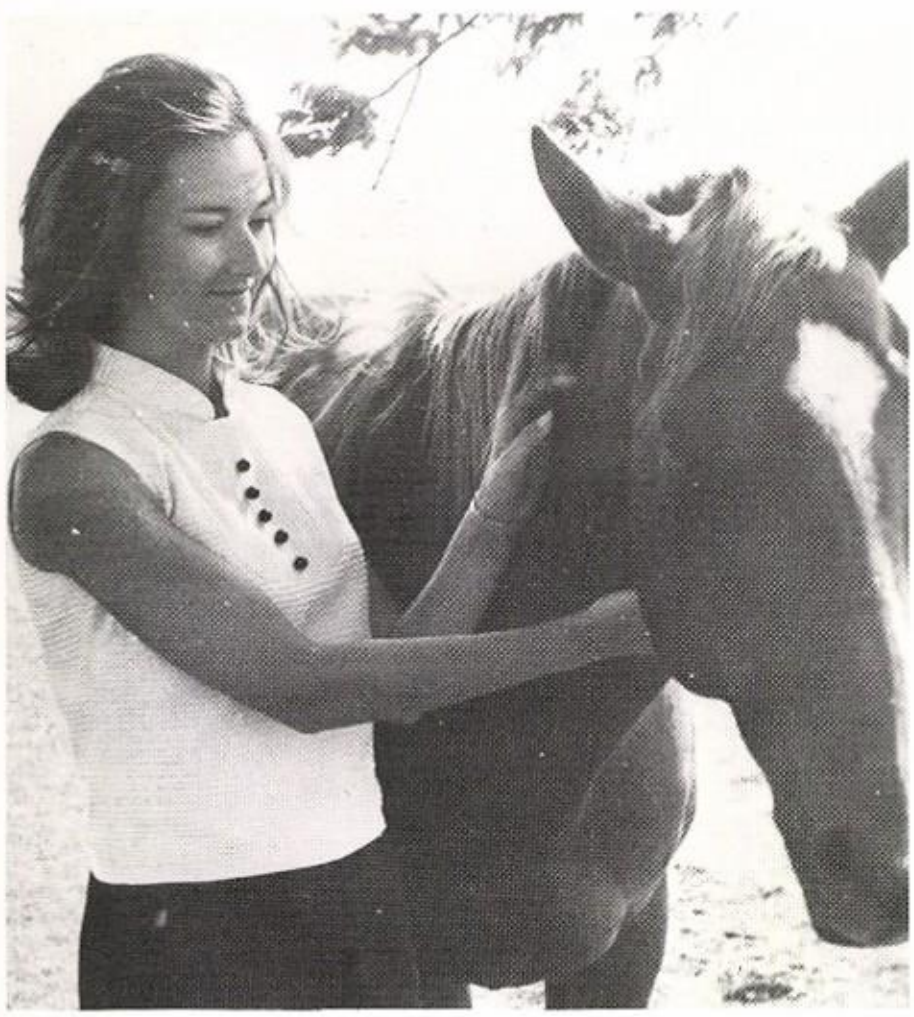
Achieving the two highest grade point averages in the Senior Class has enabled Becky Pierce and Maureen Pantusa to be named valedictorian and salutatorian.

Becky has maintained a 12.0702 average while Maureen's average is 12.044. Both have been members of NHS and FLC for two years.

Even though A & M gives girls a hard time Becky says that's her college.

"I never peeked on anybody else's paper," Becky says as she studies for finals.

Working after school at a day care center also helps keep Maureen busy.



Getting away from the hectic pace of school, Becky Pierce enjoys riding her horse whenever she has some spare time.

Anxious to learn Spanish as a second language, Maureen studies for her final examination at the lab in the library.

Largest Graduating Class Awarded Diplomas

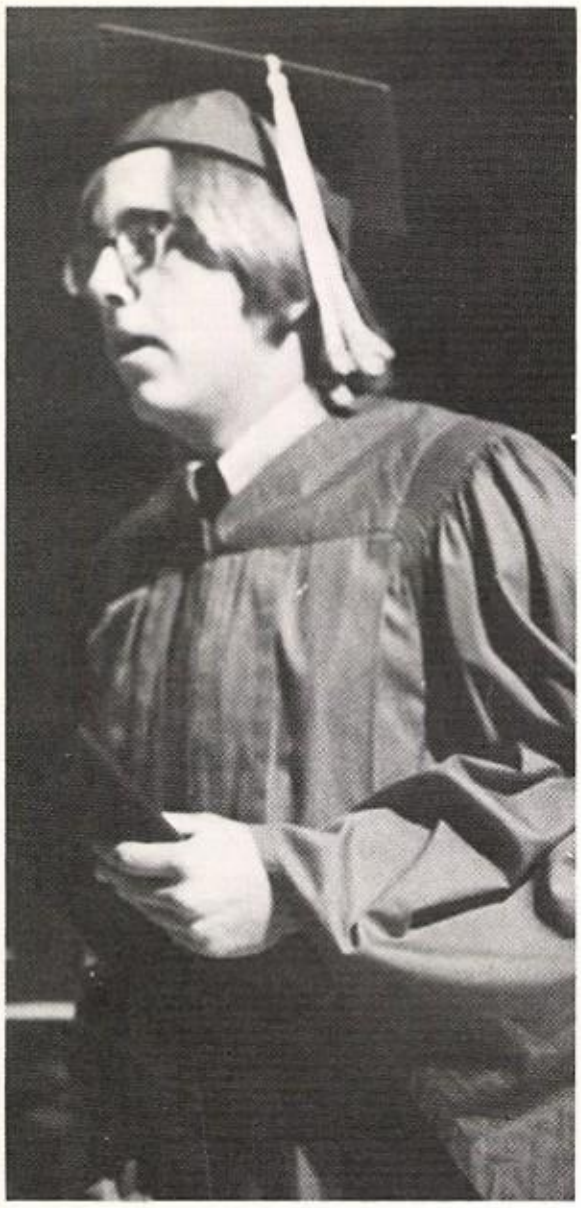
Speaking on challenge, Becky Pierce addresses guests in the crowded auditorium.

Concluding 12 years of study, the student-led commencement exercises were held in Texas Hall on Thursday, June 3, at 8 p.m. The 566 seniors received diplomas from Vice Principal Bud Remynse.

After the curtain rose, Senior Class president Ricky South began the program by leading the invocation. Second honor graduate Maureen Pantusa followed with the welcoming words. Valedictorian Becky Pierce spoke on the "Challenge of Change," and Student Congress president Karen Furtardo delivered a "Response to A Challenge."

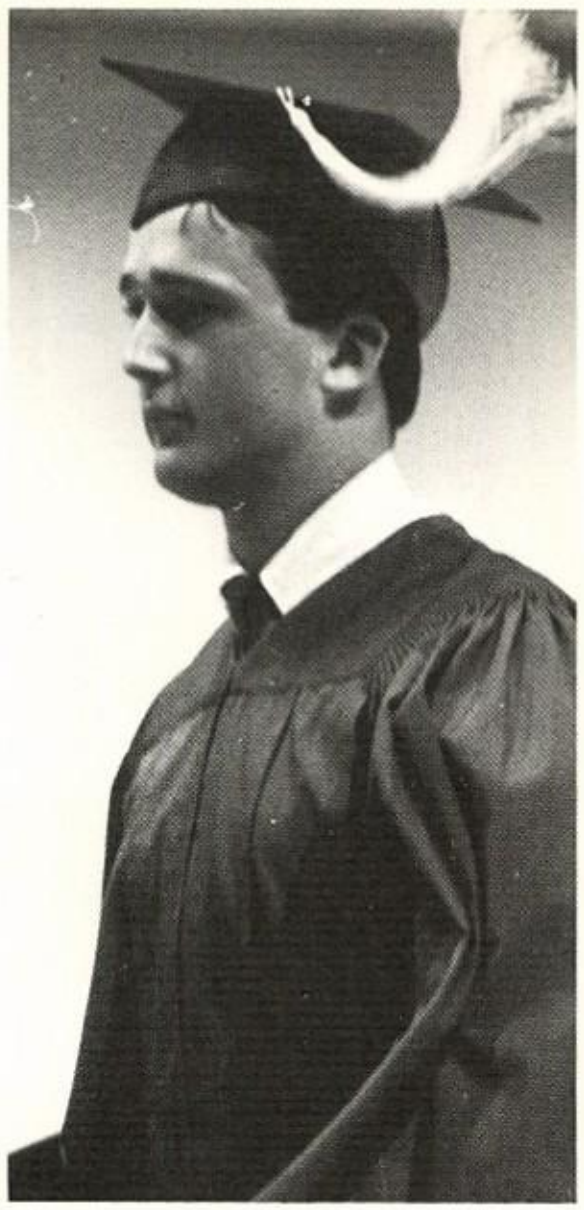
After a few short words by Mr. James Martin and Mr. Harold Key, the presentation of diplomas was made. The a cappella choir concluded the program when they sang the Sam Houston Alma Mater.

Baccalaureate services were held on May 30 in Texas Hall. The Reverend Jake Shelley spoke to graduating seniors about "Hope."



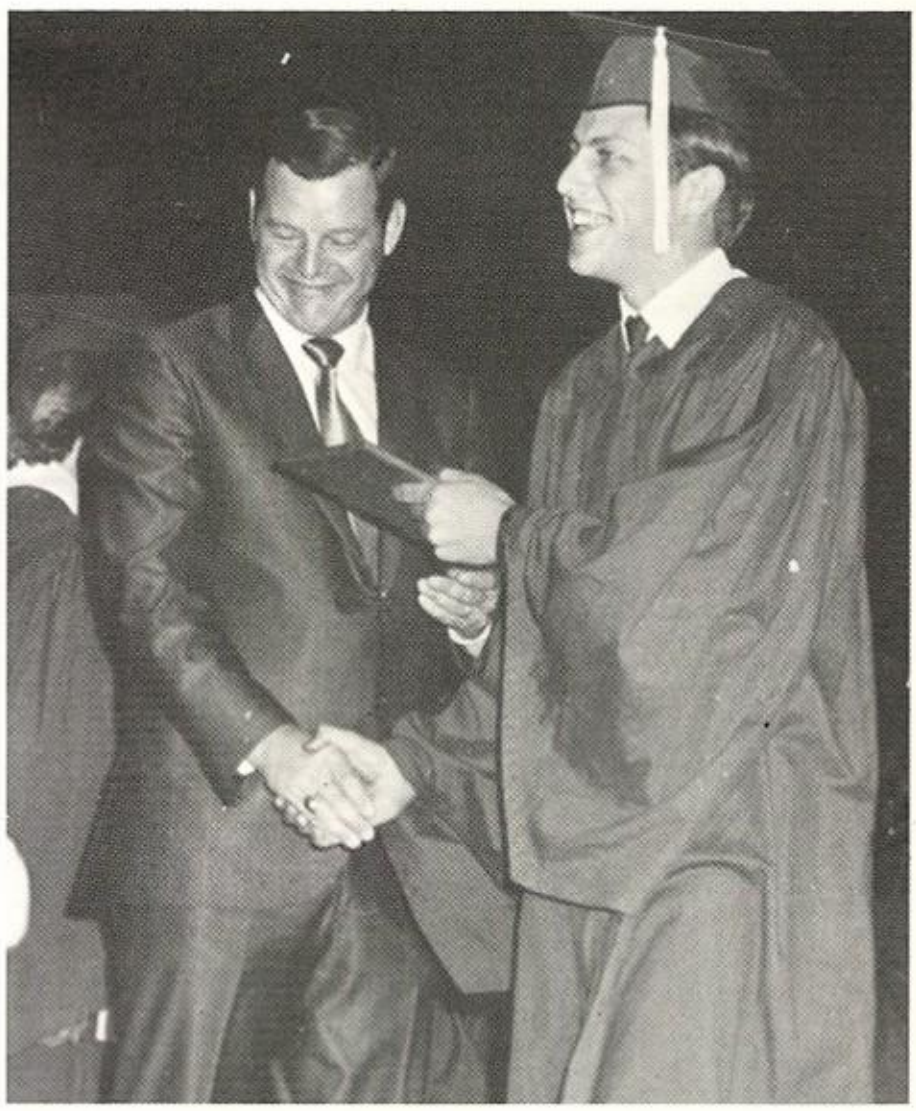
After receiving his diploma, Howard Boykin proudly walks across stage.

Mary Blackburn smiles with relief after completing 12 years of school.

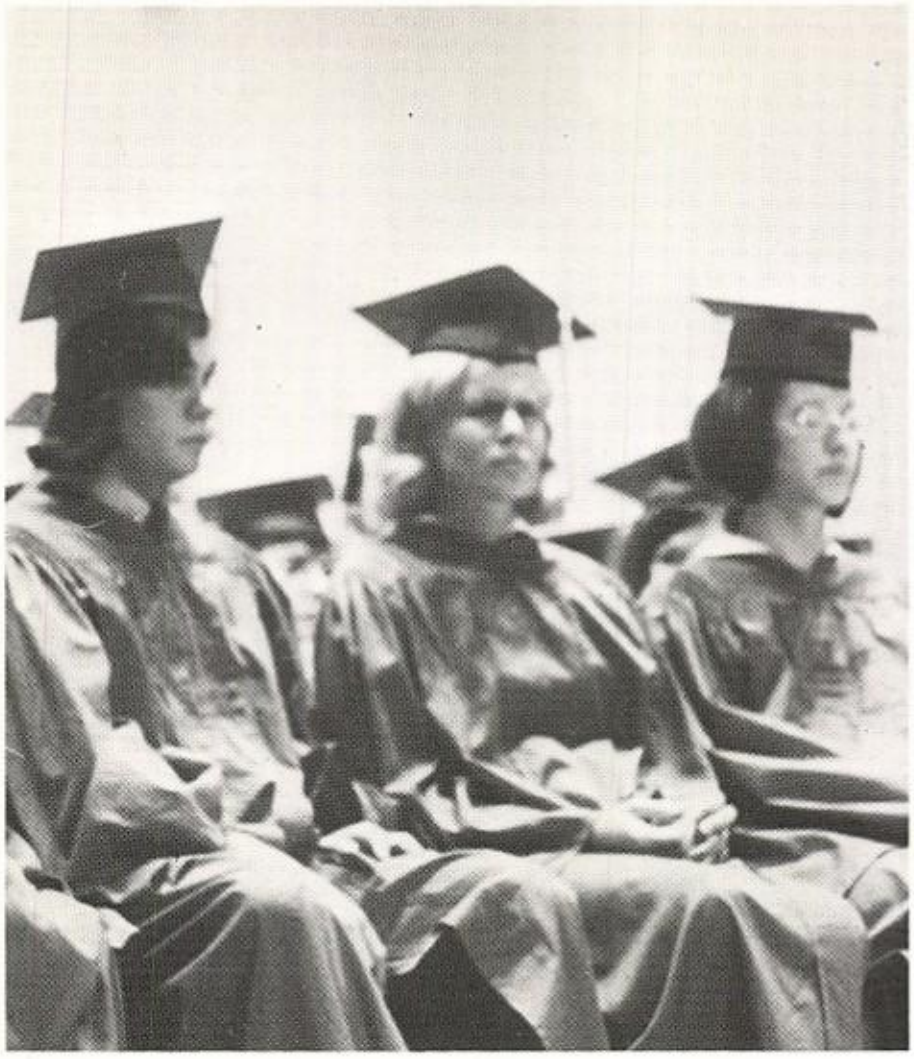


Sky Cory takes his first step in the future after receiving his diploma.

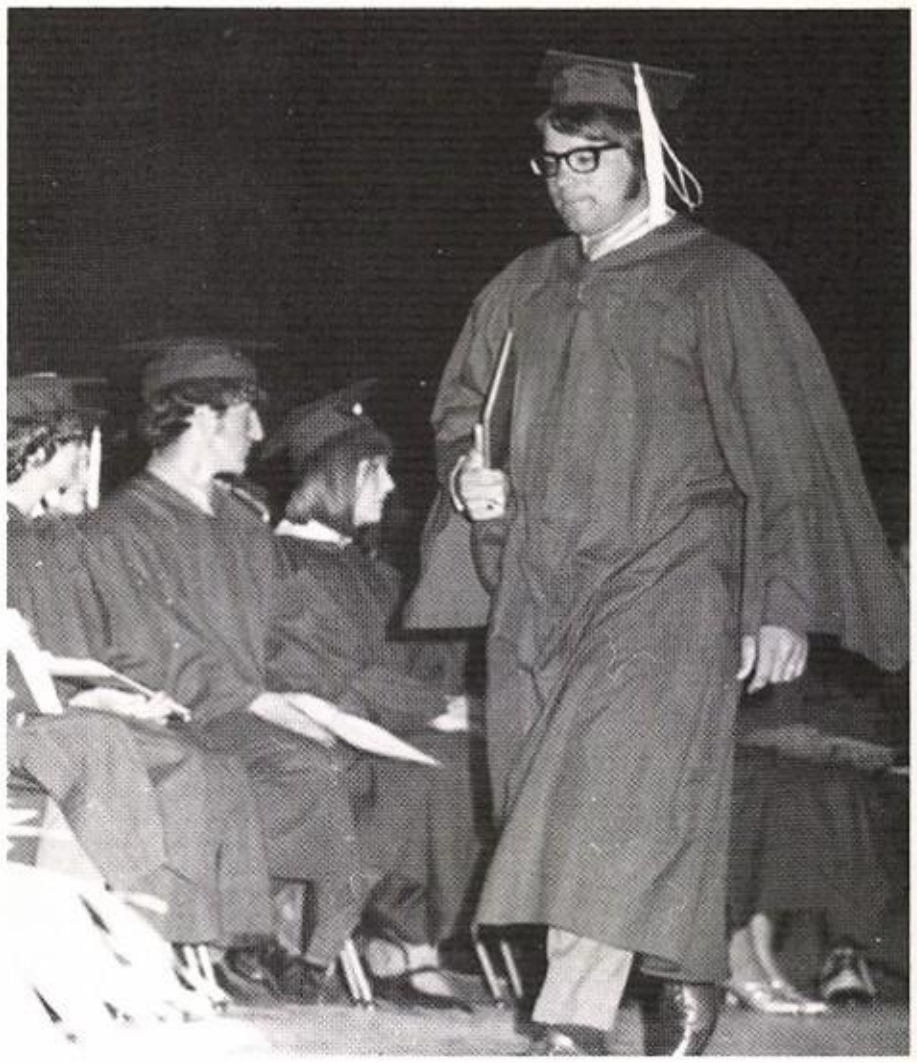
President of the Student Congress Karen Furtardo speaks on the achievements the students have made in a new school.



Vice Principal Mr. Bud Remynse, who had the honor of distributing diplomas, cheerfully congratulates Don Barnett.



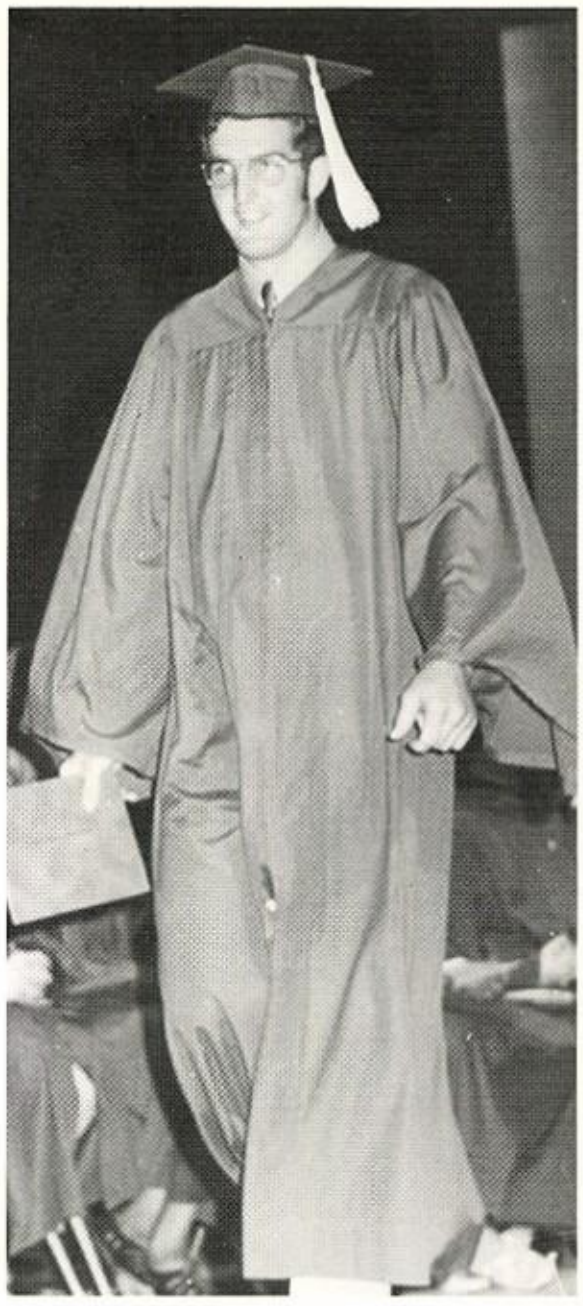
Two seniors listen closely while a third scans the crowd.



Fighting emotions, Steve ends an active high school career.

In the first graduating class of the new building, 566 seniors, dressed in red gowns, accepted their diplomas on June 3.

A few of the 51 honor graduates of Sam Houston High School wait patiently to receive their diplomas at Commencement Ceremonies held in Texas Hall at UTA.



Enjoying his applause from his fans, Danny Davis hopes he won't stumble.

After shaking 500 hands, Vice-Principal Bud Remynse maintains a smile.

With only standing room left in the auditorium, one of the many interested parents prepares to capture the moment when his child receives his high school diploma.

A representative helps with the congress' goal to beautify the school.

The changing of the name of the Student Council to the Student Congress has been only one step in a series of beginnings this year at Sam. This is the first time that a girl has served as president of the Student Congress.

Sponsoring a school project every month has been a new objective of the Congress. The organization was responsible for planning Howdy Day, Homecoming activities, and Texan City on Texan Day.

A Christmas Festival was introduced, complete with caroling and a lighted tree. March brought a magazine drive that made the Congress approximately $150.

Sponsors are Mr. Bud Remynse, Mrs. Rosa Vernon, Mr. Jim Farmer, and Mrs. Dixie Kirkpatrick.

As one of their responsibilities as Student Congress officers, Steve Callahan, Karen Furtardo and Patty Hicks, participate in the Howdy Week assembly held to assist underclassmen in becoming acquainted with Sam Houston activities and students.

79 Inducted in Spring Candlelight Ceremony

Sam Houston students who meet the requirements of the National Honor Society are initiated in a spring ceremony. Only 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes are accepted in the club.

In order to qualify, a student must have a 9.5 grade point average and no more than one C on his high school records.

Also taken into consideration are the student's records of service, citizenship, and leadership. In the past, these were established by a point system, but beginning this year, they are determined only by teacher approval.

Sponsors are Mr. William Winter, Mr. Ronald Crowther, Mrs. Joy Mitchell, and Mrs. Gayla Shannon.

AFS Sells Friendship Bonds

At the close of the assembly, Markus receives a present from AFS members.

The American Field Service Club provides brothers and sisters for the foreign exchange student attending Sam Houston. Starting this year, there are no restrictions on requirements and 65 students were inducted in the spring semester.

In the fall, AFS members held a "Markus Day" assembly to introduce Markus Leibold, this year's guest from Germany, to the student body.

Members sold over 1200 friendship bonds, the proceeds of which go to the Arlington Chapter of AFS to sponsor future foreign exchange students. AFS Day, March 31, gave five exchange students living in the area the chance to become better acquainted with Texans.

Sponsors of AFS are Miss Judy Pirtle, Miss Suzanne Hightower, and Mrs. Marjean Kitts.

AFS members find that Markus Leibold adapts easily to the American way of dancing, as seen at the show honoring him.

Vocational Clubs Host Area II Convention

On March 19 and 20, district competition of the Area II Vocational Industrial Clubs of America was hosted here by Sam Houston. Over 600 students representing an area from Mineral Wells to Arlington attended the contest. Over 29 trades were judged in the meet.

Those areas involved included cosmetology, auto body repair, auto mechanics, auto parts, building trades, cabinet makers, radio and TV, carpenters, chef and meat cutter. Sam Houston captured a total of 51 places in the competition, including 15 first places.

Helen Pratz, representing ICT, received the title of Best VICA Girl for District II.

ICT-VICA has also been involved in other activities. At Homecoming, the club sold mums and for Texan Day, the cosmetology girls constructed a beauty shop.

Girls Perform Office Duties, Run Errands

Answering phone calls, running errands and the daily recording of absentees are three of the many jobs that office assistants are responsible for performing.

Office assistants help members of the faculty and administration at Sam Houston keep a consistent check on absentees and tardies by keeping attendance records.

Running errands for faculty and office personnel is a regular part of their work. Part of their hour is spent recording absentees.

Working as an office assistant is considered a regular class and the girls receive one-half credit per semester for their work. Office assistants who work with boys' attendance are advised by Mrs. Brougham, and those who work with girls' attendance, are assisted by Mrs. Skaggs.

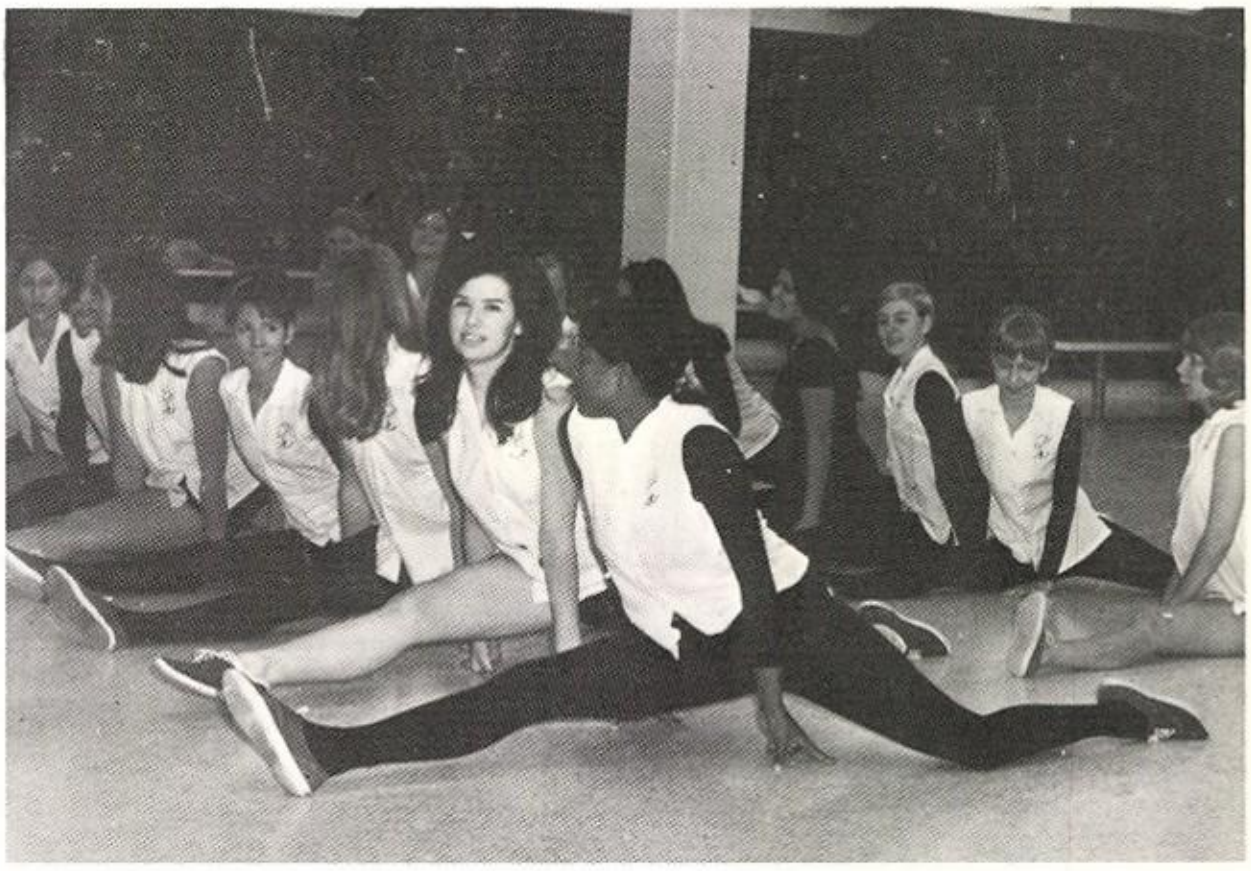
For the first year, Sam Houston has had an organized drill team. The Tex-Annes, a select group of girls chosen by Miss Marilyn John, their sponsor, have provided half-time activities for all football and home basketball games. During the games, the girls performed hand routines from the stands.

There are 33 members, including managers, who all meet first period each day. This time, together with many early morning and evening practices, is spent learning and perfecting routines. There are five drill team officers who make up and teach all the other members each drill.

Waiting for halftime to begin, the Tex-Annes line up, ready to perform.



A lot of practicing goes into perfecting a "split", but 33 members of the Texan drill team say that it is possible. Exercises are done for one hour each day.

An empty parking lot serves as a big stage for Tex-Annes' "dress rehearsal." Constantly wearing a wide smile, the 33 members back the teams of all sports.

During football season, the two concert bands were combined into a marching band. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Rober and Mr. Jeremy Walker, the group of a little over 100 put in many hours of practice learning and perfecting their performance for Friday's pep rallies and games.

Together with the bands of AHS and Lamar, the marching band performed for halftime of the Dec. 20 Cowboy football game.

When the two concert bands form again, work on more serious music begins. The groups go to Castleberry and UIL competition in the fall and spring to be judged.

Along with AHS and Lamar, the Texan band marched in a Christmas halftime show for the Cowboy-Oiler football game. (a partial view of a practice is shown.)

As he keeps the rhythm in his head, Mr. Jeremy Walker leads the B-band.

"What do you mean, there's a mouse?" Mr. Rober glances around to be sure.

As the Sam Houston Alma Mater begins, majorettes stand at attention. The band attends every pep rally, indoor and out, playing songs which add a lively beat.

Receiving a rating of three, the 120 members of the Texan band participated in the Nov. 10 UIL competition in Lewisville. the band was judged in five areas — marching, posture, carriage of body and instruments, overall sound and tone quality.

Drummer James Briggs keeps the beat.

"I wonder if I can reach that high note again," thinks Kristi Baxter.

Band members Larry Webb and Pam Smith work at perfecting a difficult piece.

Sam Houston scored their best 4-AAAA season with a 7 win and 3 loss record in district and non-district play. The Texans started off the season with two wins over Carter-Riverside and Southwest. The last minute comebacks to win startled the Texans' supporters. They dropped their third non-district game to the Denton Broncos in a tough defensive battle.

The official district season went by quickly with their first win over the Raiders and then a loss to the Gophers. The Texans won the next four against Irving, Trinity, MacArthur and Nimitz. With district title at stake, Big Sam lost to the Colts.

Sam Finishes Non-District Play at 2-1

Paul Davault boots a field goal to tack three points on win against Southwest.

The Texans defeated the Southwest Rebels 16-14 to take their first victory of the year. The first half didn't look good for the Texans, but they came back to play ball the second half.

Tailback Paul Davault took a Morriss hand off for 66 yards and a Texan TD. The Texans' second drive ended on a 26-yard field goal.

The score stood 10-7 with 1:56 left in the third quarter. The Rebels scored, and the Texans were behind 14-10. Morriss ran a keeper for the clincher.

Sam Houston handed the Carter Eagles a 27-20 loss for their second win of the 1970 season.

The scoring started early when a Morriss to Hurndon pass was good for a 48-yard TD. Big Sam picked up another touchdown just moments later, as Morriss ran for 13 yards.

In the second half, Morriss broke away on a 53-yard touchdown gallop to make the score 20-7. The Eagles rallied and tied the score 20-20. The Texans mounted their last drive as Morriss scored to end the game 27-20.

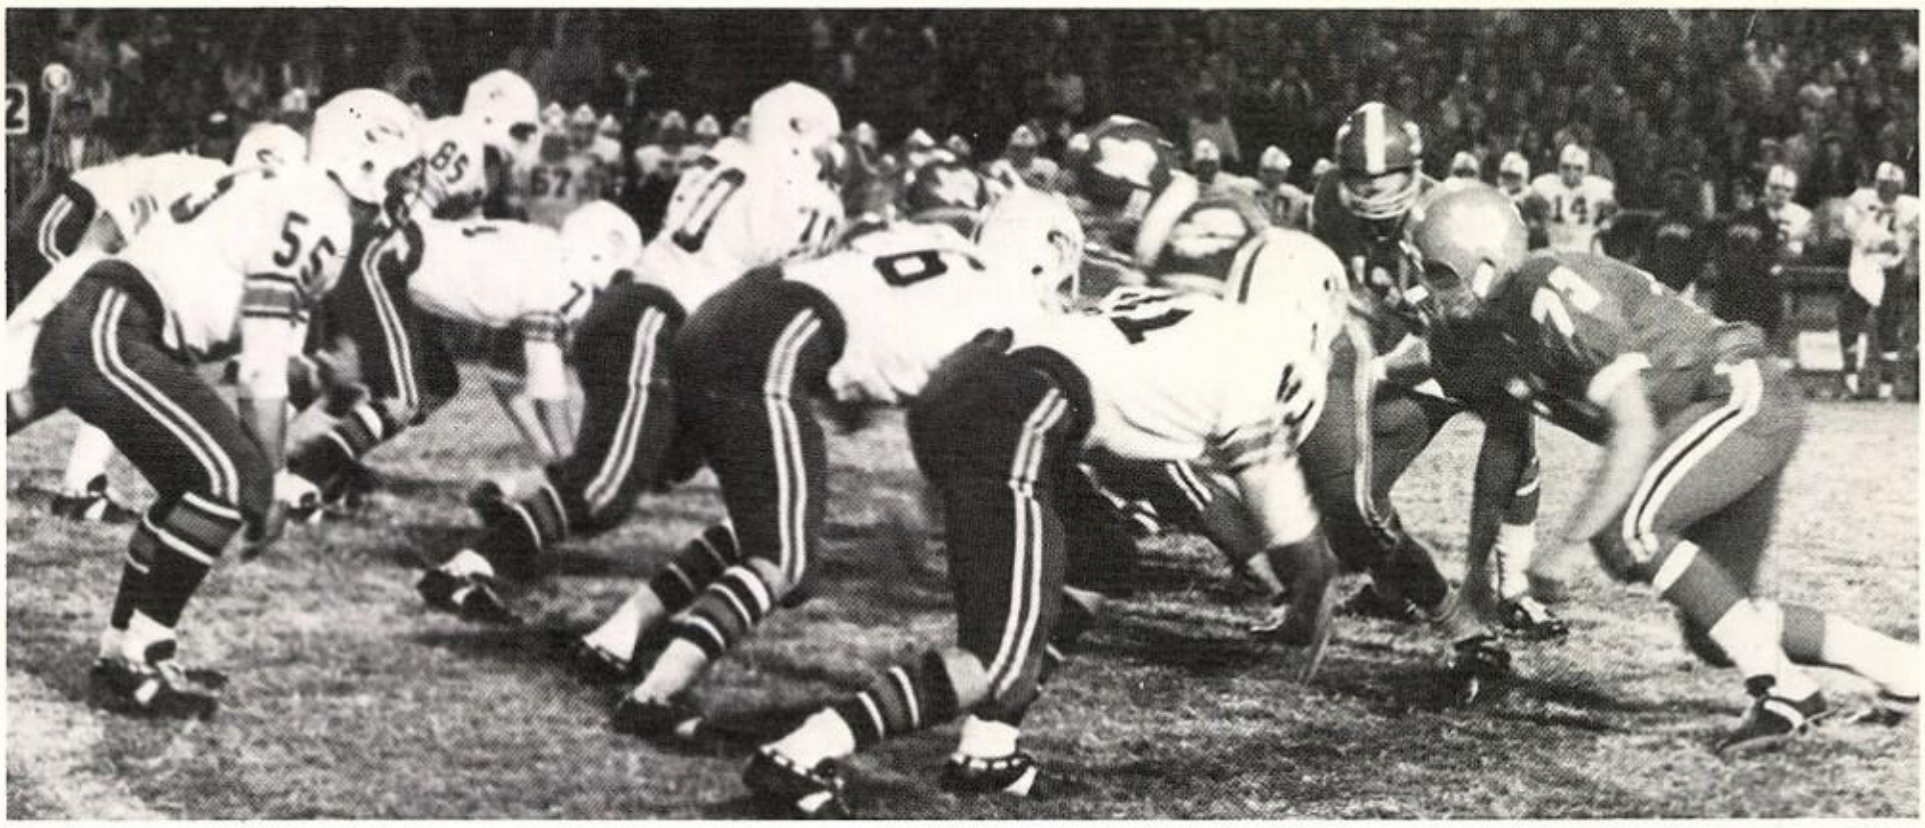
The Denton Broncos handed Sam Houston their first defeat. Only 13 points were scored in the tough defensive battle. Denton intercepted for a touchdown giving them the lead at the end of the half.

Denton scored another touchdown in the third quarter. Glenn Jones crossed the goal line on a fabulous punt return but was called back on a personal foul penalty. Sam Houston was unable to score throughout the game. The final score was Sam Houston 0, Denton 13.



The charging Gopher line is stopped by Texans Jeff Neal, Howard Boykin, Gerald Nowlin, Jerry Patridge, and James Folta.

Sam Upsets Raiders, Defeated by Gophers

"Hold 'em!" urges trainer Callahan.

Big Sam won the district opener 31-30 over L. D. Bell. The Texans didn't get going until the second quarter when Davault kicked a 28-yard field goal to make it 7-3. Only 7 plays later a Morriss to Hurndon pass was good for TD.

After the half the Texans came back to score a touchdown. The Raiders soon knotted the score 22-22. Big Sam wasted no time scoring on a short run and field goal.

In their second district game the Texans were defeated by the Gophers 41-12. Grand Prairie ran up the score but the Texans weren't about to quit. Paul Davault hit Glenn Jones with a 44-yard halfback pass for the touchdown.

The Texans scored again when Davult broke loose on a 35-yard touchdown gallop. Leading ground gainer was Paul Davult as he ripped off 108 yards on 18 carries.

Texans Beat Tigers, Score Win on Trojans

Sam Houston won a hard fought defensive battle by deflating the Trojans 14-7. Trinity jumped out ahead on their first down on a 16-yard run. The Texans' first score came late in the second quarter, when the Trojans gave them great field position.

The drive was a 5-yard run by Powers. The kick was good and the score stood 7-7. With 16 seconds, Powers sneaked over the goal and the Texans pulled out a victory.

The Sam Houston Texans won their second district game from Irving by the score of 34-14.

Paul Davault started off the scoring on a 9-yard run by Vic Morriss to make the score 21-6 at the end of the second quarter.

The second half started off slow for the Texans, but late in the third quarter Kenneth Powers scored from 10 yards out to make the score 28-14. Sam's last TD came when Richard Clay ran back a blocked punt.

Big Sam Outscores Cardinals

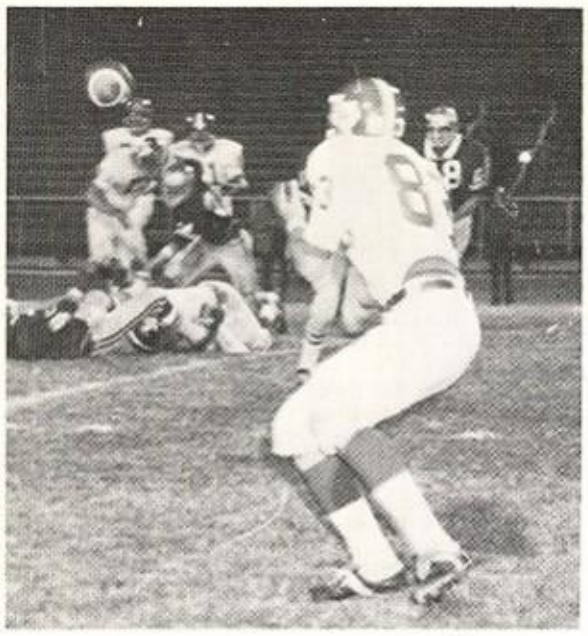
The Sam Houston Texans defeated the MacArthur Cardinals to win their 1970 Homecoming game.

Vic Morriss hit his only completion to tight end Donny Latham for the first Texan TD. This evened up the score 7-7 at the half.

After the half the Texans built up a quick 21-7 lead on a 2-yard TD run by Kenneth Powers. The Cards scored and recovered a Texan fumble on the Texan 36. They then drove to the Texan 2, where they were stopped on 3 downs by the Texan defense. Jeff Sustrik then knocked down a pass intended for a Cardinal.

The Texans then ran the clock down, but had to give up the ball with 10 seconds left. Larry Barger then intercepted a pass to ice down the victory for the Texans. The leading Texan rusher in the game was junior Richard Gambrell with 96 yards on 17 carries.



Soph Glenn Jones is ready for pass.

Victory Over Nimitz, Tough Loss to Colts

Paul Davault picks up good yardage.

Big Sam put it to Nimitz Vikings 33-20. Paul Davault started the Texans off when he scored on a 20-yard run. Kenneth Powers then scored on a fumble recovery.

Again the defense came through when Gerald Nowlin recovered a fumble. Davault took it over to make the score 21-7.

After the half, Morriss passed to Hurndon for a TD. Glenn Jones got the last Texan tally as he took a 40 yard TD pass from Morriss.

The Sam Houston Texans were defeated by the Arlington Colts 48-6 to stop them short of the district title for at least another year.

Big Sam just couldn't get anything going in first half. Rainy, cold weather and 30 mile-per-hour winds didn't help either team.

In second half Texans looked as if they came to play ball. They took the kickoff and marched 56 yards to pay dirt. Paul Davault capped the drive on a one-yard run.

Great offensive blocking helps senior Paul Davault make big yardage on this play.

10 Texan Players on All-District Team

The Sam Houston Texans with an exciting 7-3 season had these 10 players to make the All-District team: Donnie Hurndon, Kenneth Powers, Gerald Nowlin, Larry Barger, James Folta, Donny Latham, Jeff Sustrik, Vic Morriss, Jay Folta, and Jeff Neal.

Two Texans Honored on All-District Team

Two Texan players made the All-District team, Larry Francis and Pete De Los Santos. Francis is the tallest man on the team. He is 6' 7", plays the post position, and has started almost every game.

Pete De Los Santos, on the other hand, is only 6' 1", but a very fast man. He plays guard, has good ball control, and is an outside shooter.

Pete and Larry both scored in last seconds for crucial wins. Larry sank four points on free throws to beat Irving, and Pete made a 20 foot shot to win against Arlington.

The Texans played the Trinity Trojans in their district opener. Vic Morriss started off the scoring with two for Sam Houston, but at the half they were down 41-34.

In the second half Sam Houston slowly began to catch up. Larry Francis finally tied up the game with one minute left 68-68.

The Texans' next game was away from home against the Gophers of Grand Prairie. Sam Houston could not get control of the ball, and they only managed to get within one point of the Gophers. The strong shooting by Grand Prairie was too much, and the Texans lost 84-74.

The second half started and the Texans finally caught up with three minutes left, then went ahead for a final 52-50 win.

The roundballers evened up their record with a 72-70 win over Arlington. It was a close game, but Larry Francis tied it up 70-70. Then after Arlington threw the ball out of bounds Pete De Los Santos sank the winning points.

After a win over Arlington High the players receive a chaotic congratulations.

Cardinals Win over Texans, Sam Houston Conquers Tigers

There was one of the largest turn-outs in district play yet to see the Texans play the MacArthur Cardinals. Big Sam played a hard first quarter, but everyone could tell it was not the night for Sam Houston to take a victory.

The Cardinals were hot, sinking baskets from all over the court. Sam Houston got within 3 points, and Vernon Gardner was high point man with 11 points. MacArthur took their fifth straight win, though, by beating Sam 67-54.

The Texans picked up another win as they defeated the Irving Tigers 59-56 in overtime. The Tigers hit from outside and led through the first quarter 12-8. They maintained the lead in the second half.

Sam Houston came out after the half and did not even score through the third quarter. The Tigers lead by 14 points going into the last quarter. An explosive offense and tough defense helped Sam Houston to tie the game up, and with one overtime Big Sam had the win.

Roundballers Obtain Two Wins, One Loss

Sam Houston beat Nimitz in the last district game before the second half of the season. It started off as a close game, but the Texans pulled ahead more and more until they had a 20 point lead. The game ended with a final score of 94 for Texans, 74 for Vikings.

The Texans dropped their second half opener to Trinity. Like the Texans' first game against the Trojans, it was a toss-up with Trinity leading in the final quarter. The Trojans won 61-59 after a shot by Ray Green in the last minute.

The roundballers beat Grand Prairie in their first win of the new half. It was another one of the many close games this season, but Sam Houston came out on top with a three point lead, 63-60.

The Texans defeated the Bell Blue Raiders by a score of 75-59. Sam Houston took an early lead and held it until the second period when Bell came within six points. After the half, the Texans ran up the score; Bell was never ahead.

Arlington defeated Big Sam in the next game. Sam Houston trailed most of the game but tied it up in the final seconds. The Colts, though, took the lead and won 58-55.

Sam Edged by MacArthur, Wins Last Two

The Big Sam Texans jumped to an early lead but couldn't hold as the MacArthur Cardinals defeated them by the score of 74-62. Grady O'Neal hit 21 points for the Texans. Big Sam took a 16-13 lead but the Cardinals got hot and outscored them the rest of the game.

Big Sam beat the Irving Tigers 59-54 for their seventh win of the season. Sam Houston maintained a large lead through the first two quarters, but Irving got within 3 points in the third period. Larry Francis hit a jump shot to end the scoring for Sam Houston.

Sam Houston smashed the newcomer to 4-AAAA district play for the second time in a row. Francis led the scoring with 23 points, and following close behind was Grady O'Neal. The Nimitz Vikings just could not catch-up, and Big Sam won with a 33 point lead 97-64.

The Sam Houston Texan baseball team brought the district trophy to SHHS this year, turning in a fine 11-3 district record. The Texans, however, were defeated by R. L. Turner in two very close ball games.

Sam Houston had three people on the 7-4AAAA district baseball team, catcher Gerald Templin, pitcher Freddie Reagan, and outfielder Glenn Jones. Templin also had the second leading batting average at .452 and tied for the bid in home runs at three.

The Texans had a poor preseason, but somehow they put it all together when district started. The team had a 1-8 pre-season mark, compared to a 11-3 district record.

Hardballers Begin Season with 2-1 Record

Big Sam was defeated by the MacArthur Cardinals by the score of 7-5 in the first district game of the season. Glenn Jones went 2 for 3 at the plate and had 3 runs batted in. Sam's leading hitter was catcher Gerald Templin as he went 3 for 4 at bat.

The Texans defeated the Irving Tigers 3-2 for their first district win of the '71 season. Glenn Jones led all the hitting for Sam, as he pounded out 2 hits in 3 trips to the plate. In the third inning, Jones singled, stole second and came in on a single by Jeff Sustrik.

Sam Houston took their second win this year, as they defeated Nimitz 3-0. Big Sam struck early as Glenn Jones walked and stole second. Templin singled and Jones scored from second. They got another run in the second as Chris Redman singled and scored.

Sam Defeated in Bi-District by Turner, 2-1, 3-1

The Sam Houston Texans were defeated by the R. L. Turner Lions by the score of 3-1 in the first game of the series. Sam started tough in the first inning as Palazzini walked and stole second. The next two batters were put down, and the Texans failed to score until Tony Mullins crossed the plate.

Big Sam was again defeated by R. L. Turner which ended their hopes of a state championship. The Texans led 1-0 after the third inning when Danny Davis singled, stole second, and stole third on a pickoff attempt. Pinch hitter Kim Kimberly then singled and brought Davis in.

The Lions scored and the game went into extra innings. In the ninth Turner scored and it looked dark for the Texans. Sam rallied by putting men on first and second, but Johannesen's fly ball was caught.

Thinclads Take Seventh in Arlington Relays

Sam Houston's track team had a great season, placing high in many seasonal meets and winning district to go for a try at regionals. At regionals the Texans did not place, even though they ran well, so this ended the season for the 28 man track team.

The team placed seventh in the Arlington Relays out of 17 schools and colleges. In the Irving meet they did not do well, but there were many fine individual performances, and the thinclads came in second at tri-city. Paul Acker was chosen as the most valuable trackster.

First Spring Sports Banquet Sponsored

Elected by the district track team to be their spring queen is senior Kathi Thomas who is also president and Homecoming nominee from Future Business Leaders.

Donna Land, member of Cherokee FHA and the president of Sam Houston's HECE was nominated by the basketball team to be their queen for the 1970-71 season.

The first spring sports banquet at Sam Houston was held on May 11. Sponsored by the Athletic Department, the event honored the baseball, basketball, golf, swimming, tennis, track and volleyball teams. More than 150 attended, including coaches, players and their guests.

Mr. Key and Coaches Brooks and Cantrell are shown with district trophies.

Cross Country Team Places High in Meets

Traveling over the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the cross country team participates in meets every Saturday morning during the fall.

The 10-member squad also competes in the State Cross Country Meet held in Austin in November.

The boys meet in first period with Coach Jimmy Brooks.

Thank you.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Golf Team Wins 10 Out of 15 Matches

The golf team this year had a good season winning 10 out of their 15 matches, and placing fifth in district. The team is coached by Mr. Wallace Johnson and has all juniors and sophomores and a senior.

Coach Johnson said senior Mike McFarland was about the most outstanding player on the team, along with junior Larry Wall and sophomore Earl Merrifield. Almost the complete team will return next year, and with a new practice field here at the school Coach Johnson expects to have a good season.

A group of golfers head toward the green to putt out and finish the hole.

Golf members are Larry Wall, Carl Perkins, Larry Heisser, Earl Merrifield, Mike McFarland, Mike Berry, and Larry Christian.

Sam Takes Third in District

The many hours of practice put in by the volleyball team paid off this year as they captured third in the district tournament. Donita Schenck was named the All-District player from Sam.

In the LaVega Tournament at Waco, Sam Houston won six games before losing their last two. Four Texan players placed on the All-Tournament team. They were Jo Lynn Kitchen, Donita Schenck, Pam Morris, and Patsy Dunham.

Participating in the Arlington Tournament, the girls lost their first two games and were eliminated. The Irving Tournament finished with similar results. Donita placed on the All-Tournament teams in both.

The volleyball team practices during first period and is coached by Mrs. Sue Ellis.

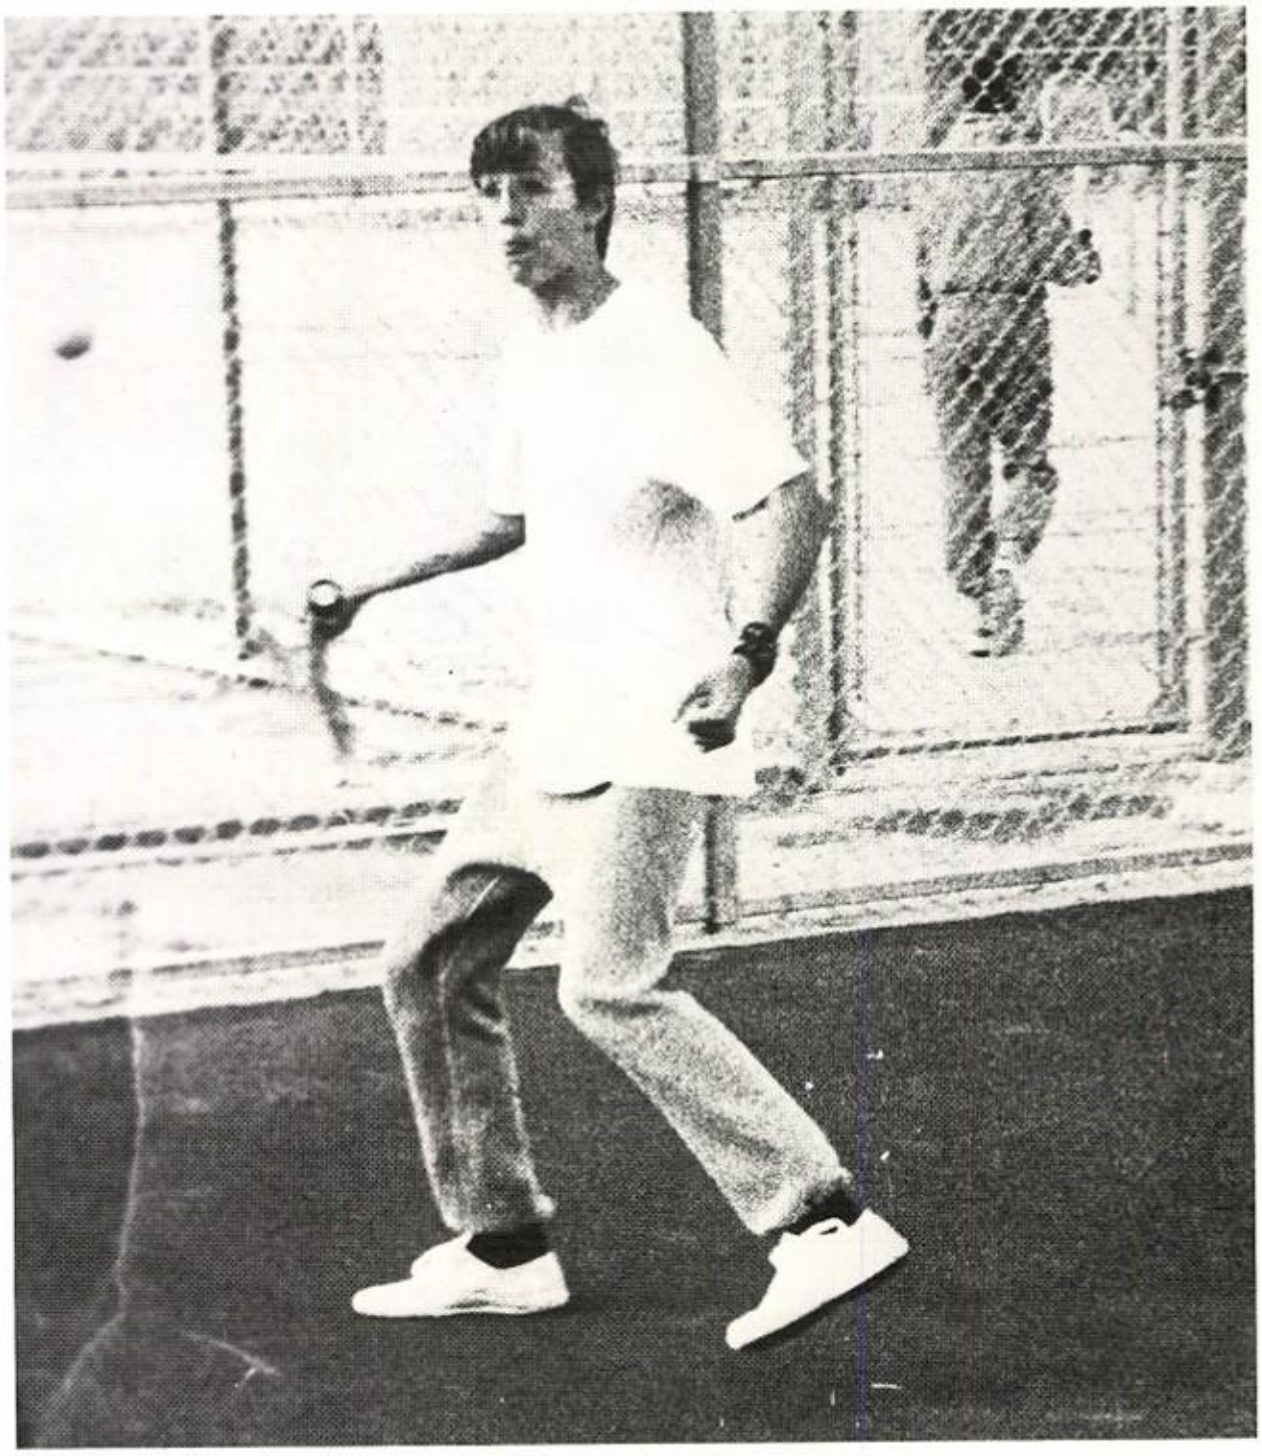
Texan David McCord slams a serve over the net in practice here at school.

Returning it is junior David Wernecke.

Tennis Team Turns in Outstanding Season

The tennis team had a fine season this year under the guidance of Coach Andy Chambers. They participated in many tournaments, and there were some great individual performances turned in by David McCord, David Wernecke, and Steve Burton along with the performances of the rest of the team.

Player smashes this hit backhanded.



Junior David Wernecke readies to return another serve from player in practice.

Faculty

Martin, Counts, Wood Head Public Schools

Working behind the scenes with members of the School Board, the administration is a vital part of the Arlington School System.

Planning, organizing, and supervising, the administration is responsible for all financial areas, curriculum, and the selection of teachers and maintenance crews for all public schools in Arlington.

Beginning in the spring, decisions must be made to determine new courses and qualified instructors for the following year, as well as for summer school.

The duties of the superintendents also involve participation in various school-oriented activities including assemblies, pep rallies and graduations.

Solving the issue of the dress code for the public schools are the six members of the School Board: (standing) Mr. J. M. Farrell, Mr. Charles Young, and Mr. Bill Bondurant, (seated) Dr. Truett Boles, president Mr. Tom Foster, and Mrs. Tye Barnett.

School Board Members Revise Dress Code

Carrying out policies set by the Board of Education and keeping the district running smoothly, members of the city School Board work to improve the public school system.

In the April School Board elected to three year terms. Dr. J. M. Farrell Jr. retained his Place Four office by a wide margin, and Mr. William L. Bondurant was unopposed in Place Five.

A major transaction carried out by the '70-'71 Board members was the revision of the dress code. The members decided to allow both students and women teachers to wear pants suits to school.

MR. TOM FOSTER

Principal = Full Time Job

A genuine concern for students is a requirement when working in a school system, and Mr. Harold Key, completing his eighth year at Sam Houston, has proved that he cares about young people.

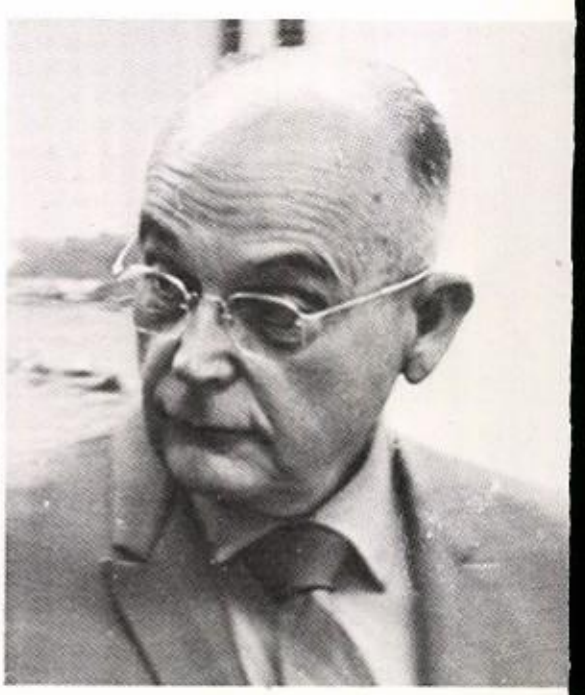
Always ready to share a joke or to help solve a problem, Mr. Key seems to be "everywhere at once." He participates in school activities, ranging from pep rallies to assemblies. Mr. Key has become a well known and anticipated sight at sports events.

His gentle ways and light humor have won Mr. Key respect and admiration from both the students and faculty members alike.

After checking through senior transcripts, Mr. Key gives his approval.

"Be real, there isn't a viking or a 'horse' waiting for my autograph."

Greg Bledsoe, sophomore, finds Principal Harold Key very understanding in working with dissatisfied students who want to change their second term schedule.



Smiles, advice and questions are part of the grand contribution Mr. Key has given as principal of Sam Houston High School for the past eight years. He is often seen through the eyes of the students and faculty with various facial expressions.

Principal Assisted by Dependable Threesome

Adding strength to the backbone of Sam Houston and assisting Mr. Key are three important people who work behind the scenes.

Mr. Bud Remynse, the assistant principal, is in charge of school assemblies. He sponsors the Student Congress and is responsible for the daily bulletin.

Mr. Monroe Bicknell, vice-principal and dean of boys, is a newcomer to Sam. He deals with boys' attendance and takes care of disciplinary problems.

Mrs. Betty Whitaker, the dean of girls, is also experiencing her first year at Sam. She works with girls' attendance and discipline.

Coach Bud Remynse prepares his "men" for the big night, when the Sam Houston Texans meet the MacArthur Cardinals, as the teachers and student body look on.

"After fixing that loose brick Mr. Bennett, will you turn up the heat?"

"Sometimes choosing spring classes can be hard," Mr. Bicknell explains.

"No, young lady, you can't drop English," Mr. Bicknell informs a sophomore as he and Mrs. Whitaker team-up to aid sophs with second term schedule changes.

Office Personnel Find Little Spare Time

Positioning herself for the big rush, Mrs. Lunday, prepares for conference.

A big job for anyone, Mrs. Williams tackles one of scheduling of students.

Updating student files is one of the many duties Mrs. Kitts faces daily.

Devoting much time and patience to students, UTA social workers, Mr. Earl McGuin, Mr. Ken Burks, Miss Janet Matula, and Mr. Jerry Goree, extend helping hands.

Together with the four students from UTA's School of Social Work, Sam Houston's guidance staff has offered all students an excellent counseling program.

Sam Houston's counselors Handle academic problems as well as those on a personal level.

The program director, Mrs. Emily Lunday, helps graduates with educational and vocational planning. Also working with seniors is Mrs. Marjean Kitts.

Mrs. Tommie Williams serves as junior counselor, and Mrs. Betty Whitaker Aids sophomores.

The social workers aided mainly those with personal problems.

Being both bookkeeper and Mr. Key's secretary, Mrs. Audine Whitten is seldom found without a desk of work to be done.

Consulting each other about boys' attendance, Mrs. Corrine Brougham and Mrs. Mary Stafford check current records.

The offices of Sam Houston are assisted by the efficient efforts of five hard working secretaries. Besides just the ordinary, each secretary has her own special job.

Not only does she serve as Mr. Harold Key's personal secretary, but Mrs. Audine Whitten also takes care of the books and keeps financial records. Secretary for Mr. Bud Remynse, Mrs. Mary Stafford, puts out the daily bulletin, and schedules student activities.

Girls' and boys' attendance is recorded by Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs in the main office, and by Mrs. Corrine Brougham, Mr. Monroe Bicknell's secretary.

Mrs. Doris Brazzil assists the counselors, and she receives and mails all of the transcripts for transfer students.

Mrs. Doris Brazzil and Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs find that they must confront everyday problems, along with ones brought about by the building of the new school.

Typing up a batch of lost book forms, Mrs. Jimmie Russell completes her fourth year as the library aid under the direction of Mrs. Louise Clark, librarian.

Librarian Mrs. Clark looks pleased as she gazes out into her new library.

Offering supervision and guidance in selecting materials is only part of Mrs. Clark's job. Along with the teachers, she chooses and orders books and audio-visual equipment. The librarians sponsor the student assistants' club.

Mrs. Jimmie Russell, assistant librarian, supervises the processing of all books acquired by the school. Library assistants handle clerical duties, and this year's VOE assistant is Tina Guinn.

Arlington's school nurse, Mrs. Judy Hester, is at Sam on Thursday afternoons and on Friday mornings, but Mrs. Pat Edney, clinic aide, is on duty at all times. She gives general first aid and notifies parents. Mrs. Hester stays in touch with the school and is called in more serious cases.

Homemaking Department Offers New Course

Involving over 400 students, the homemaking classes are divided into several courses. Family living, home management, home furnishings, and HECE, the homemaking work program, are offered along with Homemaking I, II, and III.

Five areas are studied plus nutrition and clothes construction. Instruction also centers on family relations, child care, home care of sick, housing and managing time, energy, money, and resources.

For the first time at Sam Houston, there are three chapters of FHA. They are composed of students from the various divisions of the Homemaking Department.

Courses Inspire Interest in Liberal Arts

The liberal arts courses at Sam Houston this year include speech, art, journalism, photography, and drama. All are elective subjects and one credit courses.

Photography I and II center on basic techniques of photography. Photography for the publications staffs is done by these students.

Material covered in Sam Houston's Drama Department involves an appreciation of the live theater, literature, and backstage production. Advanced acting is the main concern of Drama III.

The purpose of the Speech Department is to introduce students to public speaking.

Art I, II, and III, and Commercial Art center on basic fundamentals of art and creativity.

The Journalism Department includes Journalism I and the publication staffs. This year the City High School Press Association was formed to encourage an interest in working journalists.

Aerospace Taught in ROTC

Air Force Junior ROTC was designed to teach high school students about all aspects of aerospace. The program helps cadets develop leadership traits, and it stresses habits of self-reliance, self-discipline, and orderliness.

The first year of Aerospace education is devoted to the study of aerospace principles, and operations dealing with aerospace pioneers and equipment.

During the second year, the cadet learns about the principles of flight, navigation, propulsion, and other fundamentals.

In the final year of AFJROTC, more about space operations, the necessity for aerospace power, and the importance of leadership, while working with people are taught.

Sophomore David Ward and junior Tony Grimes listen carefully as Master Sergeant Billy Carter explains the various uses of a complicated air navigation chart.

Creative Writing Added to English Courses

With new courses, instructors, and teaching innovations, the English Department is continually expanding in keeping with new techniques in education.

Creative Writing has been added to the curriculum and is offered to juniors and seniors. Five new teachers are also a part of the changes this year.

English teachers work with other sections in team-teaching units. In the "block" program, English, math, science, and history classes work together. Involved in "cooperative" team teaching are music, art, drama, and English.

In the future, the department plans a series of mini-courses as part of a multi-phase program.

Foreign Languages Increase Communication

The Foreign Language Department is composed of three Spanish and French courses and two courses of Latin and German.

All of the first year classes are designed to give a basic view of the language through speaking and reading. Principal views of communication are stressed.

During the second year language course less emphasis is placed on speaking, and more on self-expression and reading. Advanced grammar and a little culture is taught.

French and Spanish third year classes study the people's literature and culture and also touch on their history and art.

The main purpose of the History Department is to inform students of their surroundings and to help them understand why the world situations are like they are today.

This year, juniors and sophomores are experiencing a new innovation in education. Four classes are combined in a "block" with the emphasis being placed on English and history. Topics relate to each class by chronological order.

Outlining the junior block are Mrs. Nelda Shipley, Mrs. Frances Elick, Mr. Ron Crowther, and Mrs. Rosa Vernon. Mrs. Barbara Calfee, Mrs. Mary Magnuson, Mr. Bob Hampe, and Mr. George Hiatt form the team teaching block for sophomores.

In order to graduate, a student is required to take American history, world history, and government. Other courses offered, all elective and one semester courses, are contemporary problems, psychology, sociology, and economics. Assisting senior Maureen Pantusa with an upcoming oral report, Miss Ginger Dean recommends some books compiled by various contributors to biological research.

Offering students an opportunity to learn more about the world around them and to prepare themselves for college is the main concern of the Science Department.

This year, for the first time at Sam Houston, physical science was added to the curriculum of the department. Also offered are Biology I, chemistry, geology, physics, and Biology II.

Along with the History, Math, and English Departments, two science teachers, Mrs. Nelda Shipley and Mr. Bob Hampe, have been experimenting in team teaching. Two units of science are required for a student to graduate.

Mathematics Department Backs Trip to A&M

Always expanding, the Math Department offers a wide selection of courses for all areas of study, with emphasis being placed on college preparatory work.

Subjects range from geometry, consumer math, and Algebra I for lower classmen to trig and calculus for college-bound students.

This year instructors sponsored students on a trip to A and M University to participate in math competition. Some of the teachers were also involved in team teaching, a new phase in education.

Next year, the department hopes to offer probability, statistics, and a computer science course.

As participants in the industrial arts program, students spend class time learning a skill. Such courses as auto mechanics, radio-TV repair, cosmetology, and building trades are taught three hours each day over a two year period.

One hour classes are offered in drafting, wood and metal shop, and power mechanics. In the wood and metal classes the student is instructed how to plan and construct several projects. Learning how to draw, scale, and read drawings of different objects is the purpose of mechanical drawing. Power mechanics teaches the process of combustion engines.

Mr. Bob Tarver, ICT instructor, uses after school hours to make reports.

The vocational program is designed to teach students a skill and provide them with job training. Occupations available include work in such areas as the office and in merchandising.

To be eligible for a vocational course, it is necessary to be at least 16 years old and a junior or senior in high school. Instructors also look for good appearance and personality traits and check the applicants' citizenship, attendance, and scholastic records.

During the hour morning class and the afternoons on-the-job, students learn adequate information to further their employment.

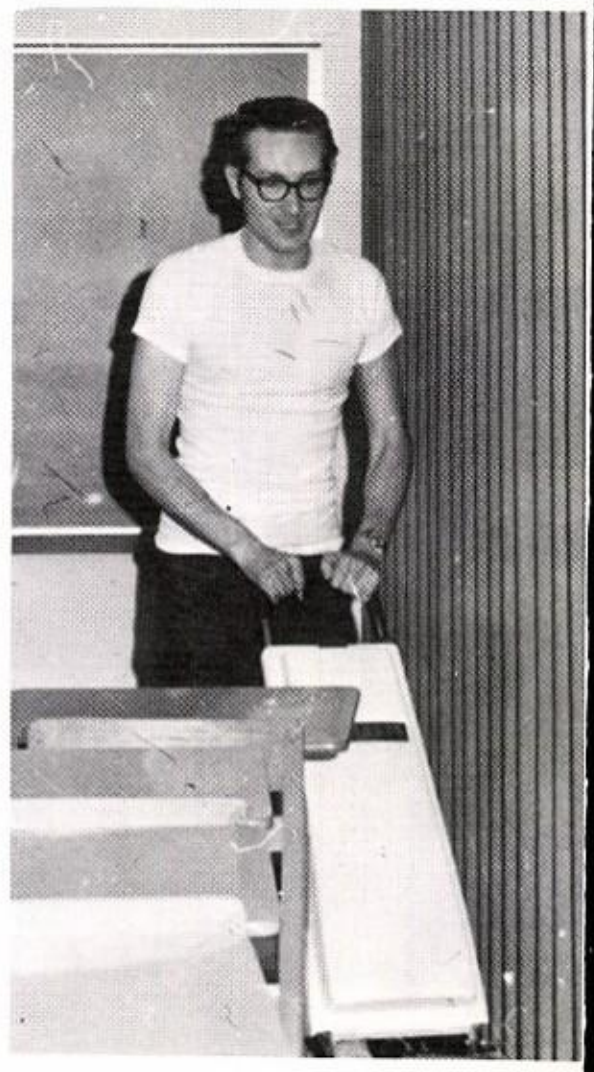
Every day after school, huge carpet cleaners and hardworking men, like Mr.. Lewis Bratton, are busy cleaning and vacuuming the many carpeted halls of Sam Houston.



Working in the evening gives Mr. Boomhower time to think pleasant thoughts.

After preparing the day's lunch with "tender loving care," the hard working cafeteria ladies take a well-earned morning coffee break before first lunch begins.

"Dishing out" money for food expenses, a cafeteria helper pays weekly bill.

Getting to school before even the earliest arrivals and staying long after that last bell has rung are Sam Houston's custodians.

Before classes begin, they put the building in working condition, and when the day is through, they finish by mopping and vacuuming the floors, cleaning blackboards, and emptying waste baskets.

Preparing lunches for the administration and many hungry students, isn't an easy job, and it requires many hours of hard work by the 12 cafeteria ladies.

The staff cooks and serves approximately 950 lunches each day, and they also clean up.

The 1970-71 cafeteria staff is (front row) Mrs. Goldie Vaughan, Mrs. Patsy Allan, Mrs. Ann Lindsey, Mrs. Lee Clark, Mrs. Otila Alcala, (back row) Mrs. Avis Dudley, Mrs. Tommye Ihnfeldt, Mrs. Gay Clark, Mrs. Jewel Lawing and Mrs. Inez Gotcher.

THE TIMES ARE CHANGING

You bet the times are changing. Today, as never before, young people are contributing directly to our way of life . . . providing fresh ideas and energy; helping shape business and industry to the needs of people in these changing times.

At Texas Electric, keeping up with change is a big job. But we're working at it — combining the energy, ideas and enthusiasm of youthful employees with the resources and experience of some grayer heads.

That's what Texas Electric is all about. A group of people — young, older and in-between — working to provide the electric service which will make possible so many of the changes and improvements the future holds.

At graduation time, a senior pauses to remember both the good and bad moments.

In Memoriam

For contributions to Sam Houston and their association with students, we remember Scott, Jimmy, and Mike — a friendship never ceases.

The 1970-71 school year has been an especially memorable one, not only to graduating seniors but to the entire student body. Moving to a new school was only the beginning of an eventful year. Through the interest and efforts of the students, many "firsts" have been established which will be remembered, especially by the Senior Class of '71.

Along with three social workers, the Parent-Teacher-Student-Association joined together the classes, faculty, and administration. Representing other firsts were a full scaled Texan Day, the Community Christmas Festival, bigger Homecoming activities, and increased new team-teaching programs. The school government was even stronger with the division of the Student Congress into the Senate and House. All of these activities have been established by the involvement of all three classes and not just by an interested few.

As each of us go our separate ways we will carry something with us from the past year. Hopefully, the unity and involvement which have been firmly established through the '70-'71 school year will be passed on, not only in the halls of Sam Houston, but also in those of our country.
